

EUROPE HOVERS ON BRINK OF NEW WAR

MINERS STRIKE; HOPE OF PEACE SLIGHT

PINCHOT WILL TRY AGAIN TO CALL MEETING

Warring Factions Farther Apart Than Ever After Friday Session

BOTH MAKE REPLY

Split Wide Open on Certain Proposals In Governor's Plan

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 1.—While negotiations looking to a settlement of the anthracite controversy are still in progress, 150,000 miners are idle. Last midnight the strike order went into effect.

The meeting of anthracite operators and miners with Governor Pinchot adjourned last evening to meet again today. A pledge of secrecy was exacted from both parties by the governor, but it is understood that a compromise proposal offered by Pinchot following "qualified rejection" of the first suggestions has brought the miners and operators together again. Meanwhile the strike is on. There has been no rescinding order issued to offset the suspension order sent out from Atlantic City.

While both sides refuse to admit a compromise proposal is being considered today, it is generally believed that Governor Pinchot has succeeded in having the deadlocked owners and miners get together on a common basis as suggested in his original proposal.

In their answer both sides indicated that there was a common ground on which matters could be referred again to the joint conference committee, and it is understood that Governor Pinchot has persuaded the men to remain here and try to reach some sort of an agreement.

By settling their differences, which now hinges chiefly on the wage increase, it will be possible for the scale committees to ratify any agreement and prepare the mines for resumption of work on Tuesday morning.

Indication points that both sides would be satisfied with the 10 per cent wage increase suggested by Governor Pinchot, the only point of difference being that the miners demand a flat increase for day miners, which it is said can be agreed upon somewhere between $1 and $2 a day. The miners seem confident that their cause will eventually be won.

After five and a half hours' conference yesterday afternoon, the two factions were "farther apart than ever," according to reliable information coming from the conference room at the State House.

The miners' reply to the governor's plan of settlement was termed a "friendly rejection."

There was "far less friendship" in the operators' answer. A counter proposition made to the miners by the operators, upon pleas of the governor was the matter to be considered at the conference today.

What this counter plan was could not be learned, Governor Pinchot pledging both delegations to absolute secrecy. Since the miners and operators split "widest" on the arbitration program submitted by the governor, it was believed here that this phase of the dispute was one now under consideration.

Washington, Sept. 1.—There were no indications today that either President Coolidge or any of the officials of his administration were worried because the strike in the hard coal fields had gone into effect according to schedule.

They were just as complacent and optimistic this morning as they were two weeks ago, being confident that the country would not suffer for lack of fuel even if anthracite production should be halted for a considerable period.

The position as chief of the fish and game division has been vacant since June, when A. C. Baxter, former chief, resigned. There are seven plants in Cincinnati, which turned out foodstuffs valued at $8,105,108 in 1921. Omaha, Neb., was first, with an output of $9,272,267; Toledo fourth with an output of $3,558,286; Cleveland 10 with an output of $2,424,294, and Akron three with an output of $1,334,126. Norwalk, O., Sept. 1.—According to findings made in a report to the state auditor by State Examiner J. A. Kenney, L. Snook, former Norwalk city auditor, and A. B. Terry, city treasurer, owe the city of Norwalk $54,117.37, principal and interest, on improvement bonds, said to have been irregularly sold and on which payment was not secured. The improvement bonds were sold to H. B. Bennett & Company of Toledo, according to the report, under an arrangement with the officials that the company's check was to be held up for several days. When it was presented for payment the bank refused to honor it because there was no money on deposit. Holding the check, according to Kenney's report, was contrary to law.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION ELECTS

CITY OF YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, SWEEP BY FIRE FOLLOWING EARTH QUAKE

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—Meager advices to the Radio Corporation here today indicated that the city of Yokohama, Japan, was almost totally destroyed by fire which followed one of the most severe earthquakes in the history of Japan.

Many lives were lost in the quake and fire. Advices stated that casualties were "numerous."

No estimate of the loss of life could be obtained however.

Reports of the earthquake and fire were received here from the Iwaki station, the Radio Corporation at Tamioka. It is an isolated spot in the Japanese empire and an eight hour train ride from Tokyo.

London Sept. 1.—Heavy damage is believed to have resulted in Tokyo, Yokohama, Yokosuka and Osaka by earthquakes, according to despatches from Osaka this afternoon.

The quake continued six minutes at Osaka, the despatch said. Communication with Tokyo has been cut off.

Tremors lasting an hour and a half were reported on the Izu peninsula.

ITALIAN PREMIER WARNS ALLIES

London, Sept. 1.—While the feeling here is that there was little justification for Premier Mussolini's ultimatum, nevertheless the British government believes that Greece must make reparations for the murders of General Tellini and his associates. The murders were committed on Greek soil. Britain, however, would have the reparations made through the conference of ambassadors, of which General Tellini and his associates were official representatives.

If Premier Mussolini adheres to his stand that all the other powers must keep their hands off, and that Italy and Greece alone must handle the situation, which Rome considers casus belli, there is little chance for preventing war, which, in view of the hostility of the whole Balkan nations to Italy, may finally develop into another world conflict.

Meanwhile Greece has appealed to the league of nations and that organization may be put to a real test.

FEAR OUTBREAK IN GERMANY SUNDAY

Berlin, Sept. 1.—It is learned that the German cabinet is considering the draft of an announcement regarding the modifying of passive resistance in the Ruhr. It is probable that the decision will not be published in such form, as to arouse the German nationalists to further opposition. The opposition to the cabinet from this source has been rapidly growing and any attempt to yield in the Ruhr would mean serious trouble.

A critical turn in the situation is expected Sunday, which is the anniversary of the battle of Sedan. The German nationalists and the extreme "Deutsche Volkische" party will hold a big demonstration at Nuremberg. General Ludendorff, General Von Scheer, Adolf Hitler and other well known right leaders have promised to attend. Similar demonstrations are planned elsewhere, but there will also be counter demonstrations by communists at several places. The Sedan celebrations have been forbidden in Berlin, Hamburg and Saxony because of fear of collisions.

GUARDSMEN SENTENCED

CHESTER GIVES UP TURK CONESSION

Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., (retired), and his associates must accept $300,000 cash and 10 per cent of the future profits for their rights to the so-called Chester oil and railway concessions in Turkey. They must also withdraw from all connection with the Ottoman-American Development Co., which holds the title to the concessions, according to the decision of a board which arbitrated the question. The grant will go to a Canadian syndicate headed by Charles Austin Barnard but it is stipulated that only American capital may be invested in the concession.

GREECE AROUSED; MAKES APPEALS TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Athens, Sept. 1.—The Italian occupation of Corfu has caused nationwide indignation in Greece.

The Italian legation handed to the Greek foreign minister, a note announcing that Corfu would be occupied, and declaring that the measure is "peaceful and temporary." The Italians had previously advised the Greek government that the Greek reply to the Italian demands was unsatisfactory and that an ultimatum would be handed to Greece. Instead of the promised ultimatum, there came the announcement of the occupation.

Greece has appealed for intervention by the league of nations under article 11 of the covenant to adjudicate the dispute. Greece has also telegraphed a protest to all powers against hostile acts and attacks on Greek subjects in all parts of Italy, notably at Rome, Milan, Trieste and Naples.

The government has followed its protest to other powers by a proclamation of martial law throughout the country. It is also reported that an order is being drafted to call all reservists to the colors.

She Was Almost a Bride and Only Thirteen

Little Lucille Kane, 13-year-old girl of Kansas City, Kan., would have been a bride if George Tranberger, of Parson, Kan., had had his way about it. George traveled all the way to Kansas City in his home-made wagon to do his wooing but the authorities caught him and his friend Mike Yawman, who had gone along to act as best man, and arrested them as runaways.

POWERS FEAR ANOTHER BALKAN UPRISING AS ITALIANS SEIZE CORFU

Italy Fires First Gun in Shelling of Greek Possession, Resulting in Several Casualties—Concern as to Where It Will End Is Freely Expressed.

Rome, Sept. 1.—Italian troops have been landed at Samos, Greece, it was learned this afternoon.

Extension of Greek occupation is proceeding according to plan. Italy will hold Corfu and Samos only temporarily. Their occupation was not a warlike move, the government stated. It is denied that any trouble occurred during the occupation of Corfu.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Confirmation of the seizure of Corfu by the Italian destroyer Premuda threw officials in Paris as well as the headquarters of the league of nations at Geneva into confusion.

Following Britain's demand that the quarrel between Greece and Italy be referred to the league of nations, Premier Mussolini's Napoleon-like move against Greece is regarded as a defiant fling at the civilized world and especially at the nations that signed the league covenant, binding them to prevent war. Legally, the seizure of Corfu is an act of war, according to the best official opinion here.

It was expected that Mussolini, upon the arrival of the Italian fleet off the Greek coast, would deliver another ultimatum, couched in the strongest terms, probably giving Greece another 24 hours to submit to the demands of Italy for an apology for the murder of five Italian boundary commissioners, and the payment of a $2,000,000 indemnity. Instead Italy seized the island of Corfu, Grecian territory, lying between Greece and Italy. It is said 12 Greeks were killed during the bombardment.

A dispatch from Athens declared that all Greece has been declared under martial law.

The Italian consul here has received orders from his government requesting a list of the names of all Italian army and navy reservists resident in France.

The Italian government broadcasted orders to all Italian vessels not to touch at ports of Greece. A report from Milan said the Greek consulate had been bombed for the second time within 24 hours. It was reported that the British fleet at Malta had been ordered to Grecian waters.

Will Support Greece.

If war comes it appears that Jugoslavia will throw its support to Greece. It was reported from Belgrade that the Greek minister and the Serbian premier conferred on the situation. From Fiume came the report that the Italians had burned a Jugo-Slav motorboat and flag following a report that the captain of an Italian steamship had been insulted by Jugo-Slavs.

The possession of Corfu would make Italy complete mistress in the Adriatic, and also give her dominating position in the Mediterranean. This would be opposed to the interest of Great Britain. Above all the seizure of Corfu would achieve the bottling up of Jugo-Slavia, the hereditary enemy of the Italians. Her coast ports, facing the Adriatic, would be completely at the mercy of the Italian fleet and air forces.

From exclusive Italian sources it is learned that Mussolini already has decided to refuse England's demand that the dispute be referred to the league of nations on the ground, first, that the matter is a strictly political one between Italy and Greece, and second, that there has been no threat of war made.

LONDON PAPERS SAY WAR CERTAIN

London, Sept. 1.—All the London papers take the view that war is inevitable. Editorial comment and news dispatches clearly indicate the imminent opening of a new war. The London Times publishes a late dispatch from Athens describing the seizures of Corfu by the Italians, in which it is stated that the Italian forces before landing shelled the town for half an hour without giving any warning and killing 15 persons. The British police headquarters were burned down. The Times says: "There can be no two opinions. The extremely serious character of the step involves a danger of a fresh conflagration in the Balkans."

ALARMISTS SEE NEW WAR COMING TO HIT IRELAND

Dublin, Sept. 1.—The Republicans have turned Monday's election into a surprise, the returns to date showing that they will have approximately 40 seats in the dail. The Free Staters will have more than 60 members.

It is believed by alarmists that the result of the election will plunge Ireland into a new war. While Dan Breen may take the oath in the dail, under protest, others will follow the example of De Valera and Kelly and organize a day of their own.

It is still uncertain whether the Republican who were elected while in prison will be released in order to take their seats. As a penalty for those who are elected and who do not take their seats within six days, if they are released, and for those who participate in organizing a separate dail, the government may arrest and imprison them.

President Cosgrave's government is now in power for five years and is certain of a majority in all critical divisions. The government is sure to adopt a stern policy to establish and preserve order.

Up to this hour the returns show the election of 63 Free State candidates, 37 Republicans, 16 Independents, 14 Laborites and 12 Farmers. Twenty-one seats remain to be filled.

HOLD LEGISLATION REUNION SOON

Columbus, Sept. 1.—The date of the Ohio legislative reunion has been set definitely for Sept. 24 to 28, according to Clerk Joseph Cross of the Ohio senate. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Senator Gardner, Representative Lipp, Clerk Cross of the senate and Clerk John B. Maynard of the house of representatives.

SNAP SHOTS

Robert Biddle Frismuth, president of Frismuth Brothers & Company, one of the oldest tobacco firms in the country, killed himself at Riverside, N. J., with a bullet through the head.

Within sight of the pier upon which rested the body of Raymond Post, 17, his dead son, Charles W. Post, 49, Detroit, crazed by drink and grief, according to statements to police, shot and killed his brother-in-law, Anthony Drolshagen, 37, who had attempted to quiet him.

Because George Seidich, 12, and Victor Lillie, 14, ran across hot lawn, Mrs. Helen Horvath at Hammond, Ind., threw a hatchet at the lads, striking both of them, according to police. She was arrested. The younger boy sustained a fractured skull.

Two cases of bubonic plague have been discovered in Constantinople.

XENIA GIRL UNITED IN MARRIAGE

The marriage of Miss Lois Hoffman, daughter of the Rev. O. P. Hoffman, former pastor of Trinity church, and Mrs. Hoffman, to the Rev. Donald Timmerman of Wakefield N. J. was solemnized at the First Methodist Episcopal Church in Urbana last Saturday evening, the bride's father pastor of the church officiating.

The bride is a member of the Kappa Delta Sorority, and to carry out the colors of the sorority, green and white, the chancel rail and pulpit were decorated with silver maple leaves and baskets filled with Queen Ann's Lace. Tall white candles burned in the windows of the church. A program of nuptial music was rendered at the organ by Miss Florence McKinnon of Bellefontaine at the hour set for the nuptials and Miss Gladys Hughes of Portsmouth then sang "O Promise Me" and "Beloved It is Morn."

Mendelssohn's wedding march announced the approach of the bridal party. The Rev. Mr. Hoffman and the bridegroom with his best man the Rev. Lisle Swenson of Minneapolis, entered by the choir door. The bridal party was led by the ushers Messrs Hanford and Stanford Closson of Schenectady, N. Y. and Mr. Julian Archer of Ripley, W. Va. The bride's maids were Miss Mary Leah Yant of Mucheenville, Miss Grace Eger of Delaware and Miss Irlis West whose father is a missionary in India. Miss West is a student at O. W. U. The maids wore frocks in varied hues and carried armfuls of garden flowers. Miss Hester South of Akron the maid of honor wore blue mallow over silver. Little Miss Anna Lee Tignor was the flower girl. The bride's robe was of white satin and Spanish lace, and her veil was the one which had been worn by her mother for her marriage thirty-one years ago, the daughter taking her vows on the anniversary, and at the same hour as did her parents. The organist played softly "I Love You Truly" during the double ring ceremony and Mendelssohn's march as the party left the church. Following the service a reception was held at the Hoffman home for two hundred guests. In receiving line were the bride's parents, the bridegroom's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. O. Timmerman of Minnesota and the bridegroom and bride. The house was decorated with the bridegroom's fraternity colors, the purple and white of the Phi Gamma Delta.

The rose idea was carried out throughout the evening. The ice cream was molded in the form of a rose, and with it was served small crescent cakes with pink roses in the icing. The pink and white napkins were folded in the form of a rose and held pink mints.

The linens that were the gifts of the girls to the honor guest were in a pink decorated clothes basket and wrapped in attractive bundles. The bride-to-be found at top of the basket a pink apron and jaunty cap, and a package of clothes pins and clothes line. She was instructed to don the apron and cap, put up the clothes line and hang thereon the linens as she unwrapped them.

XENIA MAN IS HELD Columbus, O., Sept. 1.—Warren Stephens, Xenia, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in Municipal Court today on the charge of stealing an auto belonging to Morris Lichtenstein, Columbus. Stephens was bound over to the Grand Jury. Failing to furnish $300 bond, he was lodged in the County Jail.

Police said Lichtenstein declared he asked Stephens to take the car to a garage to be washed. According to police, Stephens said that he hit a pole at a street intersection and, when arrested, had just secured the car from the garage where he had it repaired.

He Heads the Government Bank of Germany

Rudolph Havenstein is President of the Reichsbank of Germany, the state bank, and is leading in the movement to stabilize the mark and pay Germany's reparations to the Allies.

That the Police Department should be equipped with a motor vehicle to assist officers, is the text of a recommendation filed with a report of this department. The report, after marking that complete records are kept by Chief of Police M. E. Graham, says: "The department is not equipped with a patrol wagon or automobile. The department is very much handicapped when hurry calls are made for the presence of police in the outlying parts of the city or in making arrests of persons for reckless driving. It would seem that an automobile is very essential in this department."

Concerning the Fire Department, the report said "The Chief and his men are enthusiastic and capable in the performance of their duties. Much space was given to the Water Department, presenting the history and financial report of the operation of this department. Considerable space was also given a bond record and a report of the operation of the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees. The report said: "The City of Xenia is fortunate in having a board of sinking fund trustees consisting of men who are capable, conscientious and faithful in the performance of their duties. The taxpayers of the city should certainly appreciate the service rendered by these officials who give their time and service to this important duty without compensation. While the records have not been as complete as they should have been, the secretary, Mr. Zell, has shown a very pleasing disposition in complying with suggestions made by your examiners and many very important changes have been made and new records installed which will greatly facilitate an audit of the accounts."

At the close of the report, the examiners express an appreciation of the courtesy shown them by city officials during their stay here and of their readiness in supplying aid in furnishing them with all records necessary to complete the examination. The examination covered the period from September 23, 1920 to February 2, 1923, part of which time former City Manager Kenyon Riddle was head of the municipal government here.

CITY OFFICIALS COMPLIMENTED BY STATE AUDITING DEPARTMENT IN RECENT REPORT

Bonquets, verbal but none the less acceptable, were thankfully acknowledged Thursday by practically all city officials, when the report of the examiners of the State Auditing Department was received at City Hall.

With the exception of findings, part of which have been paid and part of which will be adjusted, totalling the comparatively small sum of $737.11, the report gave the city administration a clean bill of health with warm compliments. City Manager S. O. Hale, City Auditor T. H. Zell, City Treasurer T. D. Kyle, City Solicitor J. A. Finney, the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees and the Police and Fire Departments all came in for words of praise in the report.

The report was submitted by J. D. Brees, examiner and his assistant H. W. Frillman, who spent several weeks here last spring going over the city's books. The findings returned are in the majority for small amounts listed as follows:

Against T. H. Zell in favor of City, cost of delivery bonds, $95.21;

Against Citizens National Bank, in favor of water works, excess interest on note $11.46;

Against Greene County, in favor of State of Ohio, 1-2 of liquor cases, $200.00;

Against Hornick Electric Company, in favor of city, duplicate payment, $1.20;

Against Sayre and Hemphill, in favor of City, duplicate payment, $2.40;

Against Walter Dimmitt, in favor of City, duplicate payment, $3.75;

Against Striles Coal Co., in favor of City in error in invoice $8.24;

Against various water consumers, in favor of City, errors in charge, $132.55;

Against Water Works, in favor of various consumers, errors in charge, $87.94;

Against Sayre and Hemphill, in favor of Water Works, duplicate payment, $3.15;

Against Burgess and Niple, in favor of Water Works, overpayment, $18.18; Against Citizens National Bank, in favor of Sinking Fund Board, error, $2.03. Totals $737.11.

The findings against the Hornick Electric Company, Sayre and Hemphill and Walter Dimmitt, have been paid. The findings against the Water Department and against various water consumers has been adjusted. The finding against the Citizens National Bank in favor of the sinking fund trustees because of an error in calculating interest has been paid. Greene County has promised payment of the finding against it in favor of the State of Ohio on the liquor cases. The finding against Burgess and Niple is said to result from records showing that firm, Columbus engineer, had been paid that amount although no credit was ever given by the firm.

Errors for adjustment amount to only $108.57 including a finding of $105.75 against various property owners for undercharging special assessments and a finding of $2.81 for overcharging various poverty owners for special assessments.

The examiners made other recommendations some of which were made orally at the time of the examination and have already been placed in effect. The report declares that Xenia banks do not pay sufficient interest on public moneys in comparison with banks in other cities and encouraged an effort to get a higher rate.

The clause says: "The rate of interest paid on public moneys in this city is entirely too low compared with the interest rates prevailing in other cities. The taxpayers are losing much money by reason of the low interest rate. It is the duty of the city officials to demand a better rate of interest and they are to be criticized for awarding contracts to the banks at such a low rate of interest."

A recommendation made urges that the City Treasurer should assume the responsibility for paying out of public money and for the deposit of public money, a duty now taken care of by the City Auditor. In further reference to the Treasurer the report said: "The Treasurer's records are in good for many very neatly kept, but the fund ledger should show the exact condition of all funds at all times." A further criticism entailed the paying of claims against certain funds without the funds in the bank and paying salaries fixed by motion and not by ordinance, which is illegal according to the city charter.

Complimentary reports of City Auditor T. H. Zell, City Solicitor J. A. Finney, City Manager S. O. Hale, members of the commission, and Police Judge E. D. Smith were contained in the record.

Concerning the City Commission, the report declared: "The purchase and construction of the water works plant and many extensive street and sewer improvements which were completed during the period of this examination placed upon the members of the city commission a great responsibility. Your examiners have only the most favorable comment to offer as to the manner in which the business of the city was administered by the commission. The records show that the members of the commission have performed their duties well."

That the Police Department should be equipped with a motor vehicle to assist officers, is the text of a recommendation filed with a report of this department. The report, after marking that complete records are kept by Chief of Police M. E. Graham, says: "The department is not equipped with a patrol wagon or automobile. The department is very much handicapped when hurry calls are made for the presence of police in the outlying parts of the city or in making arrests of persons for reckless driving. It would seem that an automobile is very essential in this department."

Much space was given to the Water Department, presenting the history and financial report of the operation of this department. Considerable space was also given a bond record and a report of the operation of the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees. A PLEA FOR GROWTH
Let me grow taller with the years,
Above the petty things of pride;
Let me look out and far and wide
Beyond the underbrush of spite.
The bickerings o'er wrong and right,
The little meanness of life,
The loss or gain of selfish strife,
And let me see when I grow tall
High purpose glowing through it all.

Let me grow bigger with the years,
Too big to do the petty thing
Which for advantage leaves a sting;
Too big to sneer at simple worth
And honest toil and gentle mirth;
Too big, no matter where I am,
To try to hold my place with sham;
Too big, if I possess a soul,
To strike at him a cowardly blow.

SOMETHING ELSE

Whenever we pass from some scene of beauty, some place of inspiration, or from the presence of some unique personage, we always have the feeling that there remains something we have failed to gain.

The rose does not open until it is about to wither. It spreads its petals in one last effort to show that which was mostly hidden during its life.

It is that "something else" by which we are lifted out of our meaner selves into our finer natures.

Read the exploits of some great man and then stand to watch him pass before the applause of the multitude and what do you see? A simple man who wishes he were home! He into whose heart you have poured the treasure of what you are, is far finer than anything he has said to you—or done in the world.

A nation's tears for its dead President are given as tribute to something far deeper and richer than any office or leadership.

There are heavenly instincts that come to us as a part of our heritage in the world—and one of these instincts, is to know the "something else" in people and in individual character.

Look upon him in whom there is victory, and you already know that it isn't necessary to bear long upon special exploits.

We never tire of the heavens for there is always something else up there. And this is what makes all beauty fresh to us.

And when life's failures and disappointments have piled all too high, it is this instinct from heaven that flares anew in our consciousness—the knowledge that there is still something else for us here and now.

ALASKA—THE GOAL OF A FATAL TRIP

Alaska was the object of the late President Harding's last journey on earth, the goal of a fatal trip. To acquaint himself with the facts first hand, in order that he might handle important problems touching that territory induced the late President to visit that far-off land. What of Alaska?

Fifty-six years ago Alaska, comprising 590,884 square miles of territory and perhaps 5,000 Russian trappers and Indian traders, was offered to the United States by Baron Stoeckle, Russian minister to the United States. He offered it, and Russia came to the United States at the instance of a European emperor who wished to strengthen our domination of this continent while supplying his own money chest.

Secretary of State Seward had a hostile and suspicious Congress to deal with. The only favorable influence in Congress was the recollection that Russia's emperor was friendly to the United States during the Civil war. Many members of both houses of Congress ridiculed the idea of paying more than seven million dollars for what they thought was a vast wilderness of rocks and ice, barren and unproductive.

The treaty by which the land was acquired was drawn up at night in the State department, and the document signed at 4 o'clock in the morning. Charles Sumner put it through the Senate; Thaddeus Stevens secured the appropriation in the House.

At first Alaska was leased by the government to a private company engaged in furs, fish and Arctic products. Within fifteen years after the purchase of the land Alaska yielded in fur, fisheries and gold about $15,000,000—twice the purchase price.

Alaska today has a population of approximately 60,000—one-half white and one-half Indian and Eskimo. The wealth of the territory is estimated at more than a billion dollars.

The federal government has introduced the reindeer for food and export. The 93,000 reindeer now were valued at $2,300,000. Fox furs bring $800,000 into the territory every year. Since the sea fisheries have been brought under control, the skins shipped annually bring $1,000,000 into the territory.

More than $70,000,000 is invested in Alaskan fisheries the products bringing in more than $42,000,000 annually. The salmon alone brought in $37,000,000 last year.

Since the discovery of gold in 1880, Alaska has produced $320,000,000 of the precious metal. Copper and other metals bring the total yield of metals up to $460,000,000. The value of coal deposits cannot be estimated. It has only just been touched.

When the late President Harding arrived in Alaska he found a government-built and operated railroad about 640 miles long and nearly completed, representing a government investment of about $56,000,000. To make this road a success, says the Secretary of the Interior, "there must be secured the development of coal and other mineral areas tributary to the railroad as well as utilization of the agricultural and grazing resources."

A main paved highway 37 miles long penetrates the interior; and more roads are in contemplation. Pulp and paper manufacturing enterprises are being launched and companies formed.

Overfishing during the world war has demoralized the fisheries of Alaska; conservation is needed. Abnormal runs mean half-supplied canneries a part of the year. More than 15,000 persons are employed in the Alaskan fisheries.

Alaska coal long locked up, is coming into large local use. The government is encouraging private enterprise, says the Secretary of the Interior.

Alaska grows all agricultural products except corn, cotton, beans, melons and fruit. Millions of acres are adapted to grazing, and Alaskan meat and dairy products soon will be shipped to the markets of the world.

Alaska takes about $563,500 each year in taxes and licenses; and spends about $680,300 each year. The Alaskan fund in the federal treasury makes up the difference.

There are fifteen territorial and three national banks doing business in the territory. Combined deposits are between five and six million dollars.

Wages in Alaska are from $4 to $6 a day in the coal mines $8.60 a day. The wages for the year amount to about $5,300,000.

Here are the high spots in the conclusions of the late President Harding:

"Alaska is destined for ultimate statehood.
The wonder is that Alaska's gold production has fallen so little. Production will be restored when the world resumes a normal balance.

"The same may be said about Alaska's copper production.
Alaska's troubles flow from the same general causes which make trouble elsewhere.

"The fisheries production is more than double the value of all metals and minerals in the territory.

"Alaska welcomes the government's restrictive policy in regard to forests.

"We must do what is necessary to develop the oil resources in the territory.

"We must encourage agriculture and home building."

The most significant conclusions of the late President were these words:

There has been much misunderstanding, no little misrepresentation and some disposition to hysteria at times, about Alaska. It has long since passed beyond the wild west mining camp stage, and is as sobered, settled normal a country as would be found anywhere. . . . We have been paid back many times every dollar spent on Alaska, and the dividends have only begun. . . . Mine is pride and faith in Alaska. Her people will work out the destiny of an enchanting empire and turn a wonderland of riches and incomparable fascination to added power and new glory to our republic."

This must have been the dream of Secretary Seward fifty-six years ago.

"The trouble with an office job," said a business woman friend of mine, "is that you have to be so awfully tactful all the time. If you're not, you might as well resign your position. And keeping tactful is a great strain. I envy you housekeepers who can be as independent and outspoken as you please."

"But we housekeepers have to be tactful too!" I argued. "We have found that it pays to be tactful. The most successful housewives I know are women who are both tactful and discreet—who think twice before making a statement or taking a step."

I believe that the majority of housekeepers have discovered the value of tact.

"Never close a door behind you. I once heard an old housekeeper say. And when I asked her what she meant, she replied: 'Never let an incident with another person end unpleasantly, if you can help it. For instance, a grocer once overcharged me outrageously. I protested, but he was firm. So I let the incident pass, without further quarrelling, but of course I no longer dealt with him. Later on, months later I was forced, by unexpected circumstances to ask a favor of that grocer. And because I had left the door open behind me, I felt no awkwardness in asking it, and no embarrassment in accepting it. We never know when we may regret unpleasant relations with another being, so the best way is to avoid unpleasant relations.'

This splendid housekeeper had led a long life, full of experience, and I think we younger housewives can profit by her advice.

Being tactful with one's neighbors is another practise which pays. It costs nothing to smile and nod when Mrs. A. tell us that she adores orange draperies—even though we may personally prefer a quieter color. There is no need to differ with her openly (as so many human beings seem to delight in doing!) If, however, we are so tactless as to reply: "I wouldn't care for orange," we will have the uncomfortable knowledge that Mrs. A. leaves our doorstep with hurt feelings and with a conviction that we are neighbors who don't "get along well."

Indeed sometimes I find myself wondering if the lives of all human beings would not be happier if everybody used more tact in personal dealings.

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines."

Styles BY LENORE

Such a pretty frock mothers' wonderchild with the google-eyed doggie is wearing! It is made in white serge with cherry-red embroidery, but may be copied in sober navy blue or beige, or in French blue, and achieve the same decorative result with embroidered banding which may be bought by the yard.

WORTH KNOWING
At this time of the year tailors and dressmakers are working at reduced rates.
Tea or lunch at a particularly fashionable place is a good investment for the style ideas you may pick up.

A good-looking afternoon dress is made of black satin on Russian lines, with trimming of Belgian hare.

Goddess crepe is the name of a new material for evening dresses. It is a cross between Georgette and crepe Roma.

Chinchilla and satin backed Canton are used for afternoon wear. Moire continues to be quoted as one of the smart silks.

Metal cloths play an important part in young girl's dance dresses.

Gangsters of New York Prepare For War

Not since Red Davidson boarded a Third Avenue street car in New York City and "bumped off" Jack Zelig, gang leader for slaying his friend, Kid Twist, have New York's professional killers been giving more technical attention to their "rods" which they are oiling up for action.

It all started when 16-year-old Yetchi Churgin turned her love from Izzy Kaplan of the Madison street gang, to Louis Schwartzman, of the Essex street gang. A few nights later Midget Lewis kissed Yetchi good-night—and good-bye, too, for an unseen gunman "croaked him" good and plenty. Now Essex street and Madison street knew it was "Kid Dropper," or one of his gang, who fired the shot. Don't think "Kid Dropper" got his name because of the men he "dropped," though he did "drop" many. Instead, he got it when he was young in gangstering, when the police called him "Kid Dropper" because of the way he felled kids to rob them.

"Kid Dropper's" real name is—Jack Kaplan, and he's a brother of Izzy Kaplan. A few days after Midget Louie "got his" there was a threat of a musicians' strike in New York theatres, and the police were tipped off a number of gunmen had gathered in an uptown office to fight possible strikeworkers. A raid in Broadway resulted in the arrest of "Kid Dropper" and his gang, but they were discharged in Essex Market Court for want of evidence.

As "Kid Dropper" entered a taxi cab with his wife, and as the police reserves of three precincts stood around, undersized, anaemic Louis Cohen poked a gun through the back of the cab and bumped "Kid Dropper" off. One of his bullets went through the straw hat of Police Captain Villense. "He killed my friend, Louis Schwartzman," said Louis Cohen in extenuation. So the "eggs" are oiling up their "rods," and the East Side is digging in.

CECIL FANNING TO APPEAR IN XENIA

Production of an American grand opera, written by two Ohioans is announced for February and March by the Cleveland Opera Company.

The opera, called "Alcidala", is built around an Indian romance of the days of '49 with the painted desert of Arizona as the setting.

The author of the libretto is Cecil Fanning of Columbus, concert baritone. The composer is Francesco T. De Leone of Akron. When the opera is produced Mr. Fanning will create the baritone role. After the Cleveland production the work will be taken on tour and presented at a dozen other mid-Western cities.

In the fall Mr. Fanning starts on a transcontinental concert tour. His itinerary for October and November includes appearance in the following Ohio cities: Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Marion, Ravenna, Warren, Bellefontaine, Fremont, Elyria, Xenia, Tiffin and Findlay.

PAGEANT WILL BE PRESENTED MONDAY

Final rehearsals for the pageant "The History of Xenia" to be presented under the auspices of the Community Recreation Association, have taken place this week, and the affair which will be given at Willow Tree Playground, Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock is rapidly rounding into shape according to those interested in the offering.

About 200 persons are expected to take part in the pageant, written by

Mrs. C. Mitchell Tallaferra, which depicts the history of Xenia in a panorama of tableaux, drills, dances and scenes in pantomime. Beginning with an Indian village the theme goes on to the location of Xenia as the county seat and shows her growth up to the present time.

There will be no charge for the pageant. Leaders of the playground movement point out that it is in the desire to bring all citizens together in a common cause that the pageant is being given.

XENIA FREE FROM CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

There is not a case of infectious or contagious disease in the city that has been reported to the health authorities according to City Health Commissioner, A. D. DeHaven.

Dr. DeHaven says that only one case that would come under that head has been reported to him within the last month. That was the case of typhoid which resulted in the death of little Fannie Calhoun. Earlier in the summer there were three mild cases of typhoid in the city. The source of infection could not be traced in any of the cases.

The general health in Xenia has been very good this summer, according to the health officer.

NAVY MAKES BID FOR SCHNEIDER CUP

NW-2 and Navy Racers

The United States Navy will make a determined bid for the Schneider Cup, offered as a prize for the fastest seaplane in the American and British navies. The races will be flown off Cowes, England, on September 28. Taking with them four of their fastest seaplanes, the American navy crew already has sailed for the contest. Left to right the pilots are: Frank W. Read, D. Rittenhouse, Rutledge Irving and A. W. Gorton, and Charles W. Fox, U. S. Navy Paymaster. The Navy Wright-2 (NW-2) which will be flown by Lieutenant Gorton, is believed to be the fastest seaplane in the world. It has made a speed record of 177.5 miles an hour. It is the most powerful single-motored seaplane in the world, having a Wright T-2 engine of 700 horse power.

LABOR DAY

A NATIONAL HOLIDAY

THIS GREAT COMMONWEALTH will in the main lay aside her toils on Monday, September 3rd, and we will celebrate LABOR DAY

Great occasions, historical days, the birth or death of great men are commemorated in the history of a nation by the setting aside of that day in each year, that we may forever keep afresh in our memory and honor that event.

A great president in the past has proclaimed that in each year a day is to be marked, honoring the Laborer upon whom all industry in America depends.

It is right, that he should be honored. Is not our great nation builded upon great industry? Is not great industry built upon and around the Laboring man?

WE TAKE just pleasure in saying that we will be closed on this holiday, MONDAY, in keeping with the honor due to our own laborers, men and women of Greene County.

MRS. FLATTER AGAIN NAMED PRESIDENT

Mrs. Carrie L. Flatter will pilot The Greene County Women's Christian Union through another year. She was unanimously re-elected president of the county union at the morning session of the annual convention which was held Friday in the First United Presbyterian Church. The period in which she has held the presidency was interrupted for a short period only when Mrs. Mary L. Collins was county president.

Other officers elected Friday are: vice president, Mrs. Mattie Smith, Spring Valley; corresponding sec. Miss Jennie Thomas, Xenia; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry Dunkle, Xenia; treasurer, Mrs. Ada Baker, Cedarville. Mrs. John Van Eaton and Mrs. Will Ham Bootes were elected trustees.

The morning session of the convention was occupied chiefly with business. Committees were appointed and reports of the county treasurer and corresponding secretary were made. The county superintendents made their yearly reports and reports of special accomplishments during the year were made by local presidents.

Mrs. Flatter also talked briefly at the morning session. A box luncheon was spread at noon.

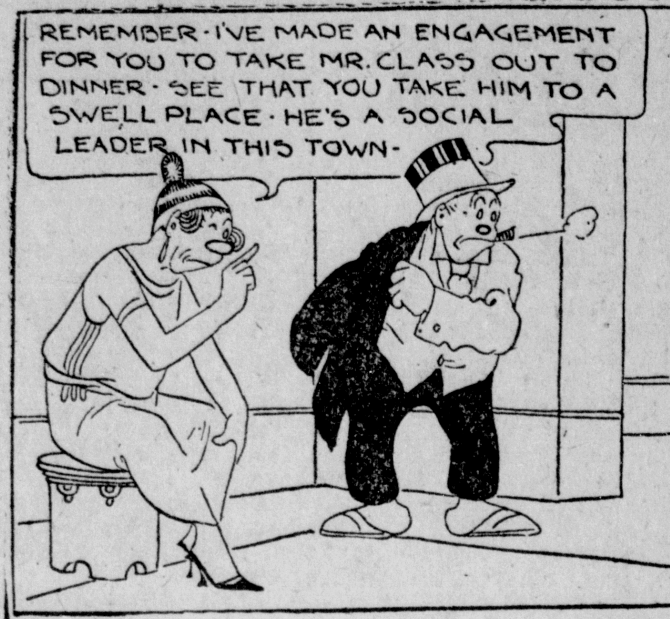

Mrs. J. W. Ballard, of Dallas, Texas, former Greene County resident explained the work of the organization in Texas during the afternoon program. Mrs. Ballard is a member of the national board from Texas and is on her way to attend the national convention in Columbus. Her talk included an explanation of the operation of the legislative council in Texas, which keeps informed of the state senators and representatives in the state legislature cast the votes and has a system of signal lights to inform members.

Mrs. R. W. Burnside, of Philadelphia, sister of Mrs. Water L. Dean of this city and wife of the Rev. R. W. Burnside, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, told of the world and national convention last year. Great interest was manifested in the proceedings she said, and the women of Philadelphia spent $1,000 a day to engage the Academy of Music for the meetings.

The Rev. E. W. Middleton, chaplain of the Ku Klux Klan explained the objects of that order in an address at the afternoon session. Miss Mary Ervin of this city world and national secretary of the Loyal Temperance Union, the children's organization, was scheduled to speak but was forced to cancel the engagement as she is in Columbus preparing for the state and national W. C. T. U. convention there next month.

Mrs. Flatter, re-elected president of the Greene County W. C. T. U., was also named delegate from Greene County to the national convention. Each local will send one or more delegates to the state convention in Columbus September 6. The national convention will follow, being held from September 7 to 14.

BRINGING UP FATHER

unbus September 6. The national convention will follow, being held from September 7 to 14.

The Loyal Temperance Legion connected with McClellan W. T. U., presented a knitted wool comfort made by the children, to Mrs. Charles L. Dean superintendent of the soldier and sailor work of the Union at the convention Friday. Mrs. Dean will present the comfort to the state convention and it will in turn be presented to the national organization to be given to some soldier's hospital or home. Mrs. Edwin Walley of Spring Valley, gave a delightful violin solo during the afternoon session.

The selection of Mrs. Carrie Flatter as president Friday was the eighteenth time she had been elected to that office. Mrs. Flatter came here from Kansas about 20 years ago, and shortly afterward was elected president of the County Union. When she assumed office, the first time, the Union had but 60 members and it has been built up to its present impressive membership under her leadership. She has served as president ever since coming here with the exception of two years when Mrs. Mary L. Collins filled that position.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XVI

Before Tom left he took me into town and fitted me out, a new dress, hat, and coat as well as shoes and stockings. He also paid for material for dresses for my girls, as well as other things.

"I can't do as much for you as I would like to, Ruby," he told me. "And I would not pay Paul's bills if I could. I believe, like father, that when a man marries he would support his family."

"So do I, Tom, and I do not expect would not ask either you or father to help us. I am more than grateful for all you have done for me and the children, even more grateful for your visit than for your gifts. It has done me a world of good."

"I'm glad you feel that way, Sis. Remember and use the car all you want to. The bills for that will be attended to promptly and it will do both you and the children good to be out in the air."

Before he left Tom made me promise to let him know if Paul secured a permanent position.

"It is bad for him—very bad," my brother said "to be shifting about, drifting. Encourage him to take anything he can until he gains experience. You know he is utterly lacking in business knowledge of any kind."

I felt very lonely very depressed after Tom left. His conversation with Paul was constantly in my mind; that my husband gambled. I was like Paul to be pleased that I once again looked well dressed like him also not to express gratitude.

"Why shouldn't he give you and the children things?" he asked when I praised Tom's generosity. "You are his own sister."

He bought tickets for a play, insisted on going to supper afterward, although only that morning he had refused to give me money to pay on our grocery account. I objected strenuously. He brought the tickets home with him, knowing that I would, but he dragged me off in spite of my unwillingness.

"What's the use of having new clothes if no one sees them?" he asked.

"You see them, I feel more respect for myself; our friends here see them. There is no need to go to town to show them to a lot of strangers," I replied.

"We are sure to run into someone I know. As long as you look so fine it won't do any harm for them to see you, looks as if we were prosperous."

"Of what use is it, Paul?" I asked. "You are in no regular business that you need to impress people. Taking work occasionally as you do doesn't require that anyone should know of our affairs, whether we are prosperous or not."

"That's all you know about it," he declared becoming angry. I dared say no more, dared not show too intimate a knowledge of what he was doing for fear he would suspect I knew. I could not bring myself yet to the point of confessing I knew he had no work; that he gambled for a living.

Had I dreamed he would stop because of anything I might say, that I could in any way influence him, I might have hesitated a moment. But I had lived with him too long to think my wishes would have any weight with him. I could only urge him—as Tom had suggested—to take any position, however lowly, until he learned something of business. This I had done several times, and he had promised that when he "struck something good" he would do as I asked.

At the theater I sat miserably beside him, scarcely seeing the stage, so busy with my thoughts was I. Miserable, unhappy thoughts. In the lobby as we left the theater he stopped to speak to a big, bold-looking, over-dressed man whom he introduced as "Mr. Logan."

Mr. Logan was suavely polite, yet I felt his commonness in every word he said. Instinctively I disliked him.

"Won't you and Mrs. Norwood have supper with me?" he asked. I started to object, the children were being cared for by a neighbor, and I was anxious to get home. But Paul at once accepted and we entered a luxurious limousine car, and were driven to a fashionable restaurant.

MINERS STRIKE; HOPE OF PEACE SLIGHT POWERS FEAR ANOTHER BALKAN UPRISING AS ITALIANS SEIZE CORFU

PINCHOT WILL TRY AGAIN TO CALL MEETING

Warring Factions Farther Apart Than Ever After Friday Session
BOTH MAKE REPLY
Split Wide Open on Certain Proposals In Governor's Plan

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 1.—While negotiations looking to a settlement of the anthracite controversy are still in progress, 150,000 miners are idle. Last midnight the strike order went into effect.

The meeting of anthracite operators and miners with Governor Pinchot adjourned last evening to meet again today. A pledge of secrecy was exacted from both parties by the governor, but it is understood that a compromise proposal offered by Pinchot following "qualified rejection" of the first suggestions has brought the miners and operators together again.

Meanwhile the strike is on. There has been no rescinding order issued to offset the suspension order sent out from Atlantic City.

While both sides refuse to admit a compromise proposal is being considered today, it is generally believed that Governor Pinchot has succeeded in having the deadlocked owners and miners get together on a common basis as suggested in his original proposal.

In their answer both sides indicated that there was a common ground on which matters could be referred again to the joint conference committee, and it is understood that Governor Pinchot has persuaded the men to remain here and try to reach some sort of an agreement.

By settling their differences, which now hinge chiefly on the wage increase, it will be possible for the scale committees to ratify any agreement and prepare the mines for resumption of work on Tuesday morning.

Indication points that both sides would be satisfied with the 10 per cent wage increase suggested by Governor Pinchot, the only point of difference being that the miners demand a flat increase for day miners, which it is said can be agreed upon somewhere between $1 and $2 a day.

The miners seem confident that their cause will eventually be won.

After five and a half hours' conference yesterday afternoon, the two factions were "farther apart than ever," according to reliable information coming from the conference room at the State House.

The miners' reply to the governor's plan of settlement was termed a "friendly rejection."

There was "far less friendship" in the operators' answer.

A counter proposition made to the miners by the operators, upon pleas of the governor was the matter to be considered at the conference today.

What this counter plan was could not be learned, Governor Pinchot pledging both delegations to absolute secrecy.

Since the miners and operators split "widely" on the arbitration program submitted by the governor, it was believed here that this phase of the dispute was one now under consideration.

Washington, Sept. 1.—There were no indications today that either President Coolidge or any of the officials of his administration were worried because the strike in the hard coal fields had gone into effect according to schedule.

They were just as complacent and optimistic this morning as they were two weeks ago, saying confident that the country would not suffer for lack of fuel even if anthracite production should be halted for a considerable period.

INHERITS FORTUNE OF PRINCESS AUASTASIA

Mr. and Mrs. W.B. Leeds and Prince Christopher

Under the will of William B. Leeds, former American "tin plate king," the $25,000,000 fortune he left in trust to his widow, who has just died in London as Princess Anastasia of Greece, wife of Prince Christopher, will revert to his son, William B.

Leeds, who married Princess Xenia of Greece in 1921. It is believed, however, that Princess Anastasia provided liberally for her husband, Prince Christopher, who was made penniless when he was exiled from Greece and to whom she was devoted.

THOMPSON CHOICE FOR STATE OFFICE

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Governor Donahy announced the appointment of D. O. Thompson of Coshocton as chief of the state fish and game division. Thompson said, however, that he had not as yet accepted the position.

Thompson is a Democrat and served for six months as superintendent of the state board of pardon and parole, by appointment by Donahy, until the board was succeeded by the new state clemency board.

The position as chief of the fish and game division has been vacant since June, when A. C. Baxter, former chief, resigned. Following Baxter's resignation the late John Bliss, Columbus, special investigator for Donahy, took over the office as acting chief, pending selection of Baxter's successor. The job pays $3,800 a year.

OHIO IS SEVENTH IN DAIRY WORK

Columbus, Sept. 1.—According to federal census figures, just announced, the value of butter, cheese and condensed milk manufactured in Ohio in 1921 totaled $45,875,153. Wisconsin continued to lead the states in the value of its dairy products, with a total of $152,179,471; Minnesota is second with an output of $69,380,825, while New York state is third. Ohio is in seventh place in the list of states. There were 225 dairy plants in Ohio, employing 2,198 persons.

The census disclosed that Cincinnati is the second city in the nation in the value of its dairy products. There are seven plants in Cincinnati, which turned out foodstuffs valued at $8,105,108 in 1921. Omaha, Neb., was first. Columbus had four plants with an output of $3,972,267; Toledo four with an output of $3,558,286; Cleveland 10 with an output of $2,424,294, and Akron three with an output of $1,334,126. Youngstown is included in a list of cities with an output of $200,000 or more.

POWERY GIRL HELD

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Miss Josephine Lee, 20, of Pomeroy, O., is detained here for authorities of Middleport, where she is said to be wanted on a charge of grand larceny. Miss Lee is alleged to have left Middleport with clothing and jewelry belonging to Mrs. Mame Eastep valued at more than $50.

FRANK MICHENER DIES ON FRIDAY

Frank Michener, 60, former resident of this city, died Friday morning at 11 o'clock at the Dayton hospital, following a year's illness of complications.

Mr. Michener was born near Lumberton. He lived for several years in Xenia.

He is survived by three children, Charles Michener, of Springfield, Walter Michener of Cleveland and Mrs. Lulu Oglesbee of Dayton. The following brothers and sisters also survive Mrs. Elizabeth Smaltz, of Clinton County; Joseph Michener, of near Xenia; Samuel Michener of near New Burlington; James Michener of near Wilmington; John Michener of Indiana and Richard Michener of Lumberton.

The body was removed to the Need Undertaking Establishment on West Main Street, where friends may call. Funeral services will be held there Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will take place in Lumberton.

CLAIMS OFFICIALS CITY OF NORWALK

Norwalk, O., Sept. 1.—According to findings made in a report to the state auditor by State Examiner J. A. Kenny, L. Snook, former Norwalk city auditor, and A. B. Terry, city treasurer, owe the city of Norwalk $54,117.37, principal and interest, on improvement bonds, said to have been irregularly sold and on which payment was not secured. The improvement bonds were sold to H. B. Bennett & Company of Toledo, according to the report, under an arrangement with the officials that the company's check was to be held up for several days. When it was presented for payment the bank refused to honor it because there was no money on deposit. Holding the check, according to Kenny's report, was contrary to law.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION ELECTS

Zanesville, O., Sept. 1.—At the meeting of the Zanesville Baptist association Rev. O. L. Martin of this city was re-elected moderator and the following officers were elected: B. L. Madden, Zanesville, clerk; C. E. Tanner, Pleasant Valley, treasurer; W. A. Eskew, New Lexington, trustee for five years.

EARL AND COUNTESS E. PE

London, Sept. 1.—The Earl Craven and Countess Cathcart, according to the Daily Express, have eloped. The couple sailed from Southampton for South America. The countess figured in a sensational divorce case last year and at that time her friendship for Earl Craven was widely discussed.

CITY OF YOKOHAMA, JAPAN, SWEEP BY FIRE FOLLOWING EARTH QUAKE

San Francisco, Sept. 1.—Meager advices to the Radio Corporation here today indicated that the city of Yokohama, Japan, was almost totally destroyed by fire which followed one of the most severe earthquakes in the history of Japan.

Many lives were lost in the quake and fire. Advices stated that casualties were "numerous."

No estimate of the loss of life could be obtained, however.

Reports of the earthquake and fire were received here from the Iwaki station, the Radio Corporation at Tamioka. It is an isolated spot in the Japanese empire and an eight hour train ride from Tokyo.

London, Sept. 1.—Heavy damage is believed to have resulted in Tokyo, Yokohama, Yokosuka and Osaka by earthquakes, according to despatches from Osaka this afternoon.

The quake continued six minutes at Osaka, the despatch said. Communication with Tokyo has been cut off. Tremors lasting an hour and a half were reported on the Izu peninsula.

ITALIAN PREMIER WARNS ALLIES

London, Sept. 1.—While the feeling here is that there was little justification for Premier Mussolini's ultimatum, nevertheless the British government believes that Greece must make reparations for the murders of General Tellini and his associates.

The murders were committed on Greek soil. Britain, however, would have the reparations made through the conference of ambassadors, of which General Tellini and his associates were official representatives.

If Premier Mussolini adheres to his stand that all the other powers must keep their hands off, and that Italy and Greece alone must handle the situation, which Rome considers a casus belli, there is little chance of preventing war, which, in view of the hostility of the whole Balkan nations to Italy, may finally develop into another world conflict.

Meanwhile Greece has appealed to the league of nations and that organization may be put to a real test.

FEAR OUTBREAK IN GERMANY SUNDAY

Berlin, Sept. 1.—It is learned that the German cabinet is considering the draft of an announcement regarding the modifying of passive resistance in the Ruhr. It is probable that the decision will not be published in such form as to arouse the German nationalists to further opposition. The opposition to the cabinet from this source has been rapidly growing and any attempt to yield in the Ruhr would mean serious trouble.

A critical turn in the situation is expected Sunday, which is the anniversary of the battle of Sedan. The German nationalists and the extreme "Deutsche Volkische" party will hold a big demonstration at Nuremberg. General Ludendorff, General Von Scheer, Adolf Hitler and other well known right leaders have promised to attend. Similar demonstrations are planned elsewhere, but there will also be counter demonstrations by communists at several places. The Sedan celebrations have been forbidden in Berlin, Hamburg and Saxony because of fear of collisions.

GAURD MEN SENTENCED

London, O., Sept. 1.—James Windle, member of company C, 166th infantry, Ohio national guard, of London, was found guilty by a courtmartial of deserting his company at Camp Perry recently, and was sentenced to serve 25 days in jail.

CHESTER GIVES UP TURK CONSESSION

Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, U. S. N., (retired), and his associates must accept $300,000 cash and 10 per cent of the future profits for their rights to the so-called Chester oil and railway concessions in Turkey. They must also withdraw from all connection with the Ottoman American Development Co., which holds the title to the concessions, according to the decision of a board which arbitrated the question. The grant will go to a Canadian syndicate headed by Charles Austin Barnard but it is stipulated that only American capital may be invested in the concession.

GREECE AROUSED: MAKES APPEALS TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Athens, Sept. 1.—The Italian occupation of Corfu has caused nationwide indignation in Greece.

The Italian legation handed to the Greek foreign minister, a note announcing that Corfu would be occupied, and declaring that the measure is "peaceful and temporary." The Italians had previously advised the Greek government that the Greek reply to the Italian demands was unsatisfactory and that an ultimatum would be handed to Greece. Instead of the promised ultimatum, there came the announcement of the occupation.

Greece has appealed for intervention by the league of nations under article 11 of the covenant to adjudicate the dispute. Greece has also telegraphed a protest to all powers against hostile acts and attacks on Greek subjects in all parts of Italy, notably at Rome, Milan, Trieste and Naples.

The government has followed its protest to other powers by a proclamation of martial law throughout the country. It is also reported that an order is being drafted to call all reservists to the colors.

She Was Almost a Bride and Only Thirteen

Little Lucille Kane, 13-year-old girl of Kansas City, Kan., would have been a bride if George Tranberger, of Parson, Kan., had had his way about it. George traveled all the way to Kansas City in his home-made wagon to do his wooing but the authorities caught him and his friend Mike Yawman, who had gone along to act as best man, and arrested them as runaways.

Italy Fires First Gun in Shelling of Greek Possession, Resulting in Several Casualties—Concern as to Where It Will End Is Freely Expressed.

Rome, Sept. 1.—Italian troops have been landed at Samos, Greece, it was learned this afternoon.

Extension of Greek occupation is proceeding according to plan. Italy will hold Corfu and Samos only temporarily. Their occupation was not a warlike move, the government stated. It is denied that any trouble occurred during the occupation of Corfu.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Confirmation of the seizure of Corfu by the Italian destroyer Premuda threw officials in Paris as well as the headquarters of the league of nations at Geneva into confusion.

Following Britain's demand that the quarrel between Greece and Italy be referred to the league of nations, Premier Mussolini's Napoleon-like move against Greece is regarded as a defiant fling at the civilized world and especially at the nations that signed the league covenant, binding them to prevent war. Legally, the seizure of Corfu is an act of war, according to the best official opinion here.

It was expected that Mussolini, upon the arrival of the Italian fleet off the Greek coast, would deliver another ultimatum, couched in the strongest terms, probably giving Greece another 24 hours to submit to the demands of Italy for an apology for the murder of five Italian boundary commissioners, and the payment of a $2,000,000 indemnity. Instead Italy seized the island of Corfu, Grecian territory, lying between Greece and Italy. It is said 12 Greeks were killed during the bombardment.

A dispatch from Athens declared that all Greece has been declared under martial law.

The Italian consul here has received orders from his government requesting a list of the names of all Italian army and navy reservists resident in France.

The Italian government broadcasted orders to all Italian vessels not to touch at ports of Greece. A report from Milan said the Greek consulate had been bombed for the second time within 24 hours. It was reported that the British fleet at Malta had been ordered to Grecian waters.

Will Support Greece.

If war comes it appears that Jugoslavia will throw its support to Greece. It was reported from Belgrade that the Greek minister and the Serbian premier conferred on the situation. From Fiume came the report that the Italians had burned a Jugo-Slav motorboat and flag following a report that the captain of an Italian steamship had been insulted by Jugo-Slavs.

The possession of Corfu would make Italy complete mistress in the Adriatic, and also give her dominating position in the Mediterranean. This would be opposed to the interest of Great Britain. Above all the seizure of Corfu would achieve the bottling up of Jugo-Slavia, the hereditary enemy of the Italians. Her coast ports, facing the Adriatic, would be completely at the mercy of the Italian fleet and air forces.

From exclusive Italian sources it is learned that Mussolini already has decided to refuse England's demand that the dispute be referred to the league of nations on the ground, first, that the matter is a strictly political one between Italy and Greece, and second, that there has been no threat of war made.

LONDON PAPERS SAY WAR CERTAIN

London, Sept. 1.—All the London papers take the view that war is inevitable. Editorial comment and news dispatches clearly indicate the imminent opening of a new war. The London Times publishes a late dispatch from Athens describing the seizures of Corfu by the Italians, in which it is stated that the Italian forces before landing shelled the town for half an hour without giving any warning and killing 15 persons. The British police headquarters were burned down. The Times says: "There can be no two opinions. The extremely serious character of the step involves a danger of a fresh conflagration in the Balkans."

Athens, Sept. 1.—An official statement says that when the governor of Corfu was informed by the Italians that the island was to surrender, he replied that he would ask the Greek government for instructions. Before an answer arrived from Athens the Italian troops landed and the fleet bombarded the port. The police station and a school caught fire. Fifteen persons were killed, it is said.

A Rome dispatch says that Mussolini is determined to exact from Greece a full submission to all the terms of the original ultimatum. Payment of $2,000,000 indemnity demanded by Italy is impossible, in view of the condition of the Greek finances.

ALARMISTS SEE NEW WAR COMING TO HIT IRELAND

Dublin, Sept. 1.—The Republicans have turned Monday's election into a surprise, the returns to date showing that they will have approximately 40 seats in the dail. The Free States will have more than 60 members.

It is believed by alarmists that the result of the election will plunge Ireland into a new war. While Dan Breen may take the oath in the dail, under protest, others will follow the example of De Valera and Kelly and organize a dail of their own.

It is still uncertain whether the Republican who were elected while in prison will be released in order to take their seats. As a penalty for those who are elected and who do not take their seats within six days, if they are released, and for those who participate in organizing a separate dail, the government may arrest and imprison them.

President Cosgrave's government is now in power for five years and is certain of a majority in all critical divisions. The government is sure to adopt a stern policy to establish and preserve order.

Up to this hour the returns show the election of 53 Free State candidates, 37 Republicans, 16 Independents, 14 Laborites and 12 Farmers. Twenty-one seats remain to be filled.

HOLD LEGISLATION REUNION SOON

Columbus, Sept. 1.—The date of the Ohio legislative reunion has been set definitely for Sept. 24 to 28, according to Clerk Joseph Cross of the Ohio senate. The reunion will be held at Cincinnati, the entertainment arranged for the sojourn including a trip to Chattanooga, Tenn., over the Cincinnati Southern railroad, the only municipally owned steam railroad in the United States. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Senator Gardner, Representative Lipp, Clerk Cross of the senate and Lipp John B. Maynard of the house of representatives.

SNAP SHOTS

Robert Biddle Frisvuth, president of Frisvuth Brothers & Company, one of the oldest tobacco firms in the country, killed himself at Riverside, N. J., with a bullet through the head.

Within sight of the bier upon which rested the body of Raymond Post, 17, his dead son, Charles W. Post, 48, Detroit, crazed by drink and grief, according to statements to police, shot and killed his brother-in-law, Anthony Drolshagen, 37, who had attempted to quiet him.

Because George Seidich, 12, and Victor Lillize, 14, ran across her lawn, Mrs. Helen Horvath at Hammond, Ind., threw a hatchet at the lads, striking both of them, according to police. She was arrested. The younger boy sustained a fractured skull.

Two cases of bubonic plague have been discovered in Constantinople.

WORKMAN FATAL HURT

Zanesville, O., Sept. 1.—Walter Stone, 54, of Cumberland, O., was injured, perhaps fatally, while at work on a sawmill near Dresden. He was repairing a pulley when it fell and struck him on the head, causing a fracture of his skull.

GREB ASKS TITLE FROM WILSON IN BOUT IN NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 1.—Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh windmill, is the new middleweight champion of the world.

He took the title from Johnny Wilson at the Polo grounds last night, just as everybody expected he would, getting the decision of the judges and the referee after 15 slow rounds.

There was never any more tugging and tussling and strange wrestling holds developed in a championship in these parts. After one good speedy round, in which Wilson, otherwise Panica, sometimes called the "cheese champion," showed a surprising burst of hectic fury, the affair settled down to a slow drag.

Greb hits but one style of fighting and he fought that way to win the middleweight title. He mauled and mauled, his favorite system of mauling being to clasp Wilson about the neck with his left and claw him with his right.

Wilson is a "sidewheeler," or left-hander, and none too fast. He depends largely on his left hand punch to the body, but while he landed it occasionally he could not hurt the nimble Pittsburgher. Wilson is methodical, game and not brilliant. He did his best last night, no doubt of that, but Greb won all but two rounds and no one was surprised.

Wilson won the title from Mike O'Dowd on a Boston decision some years ago. O'Dowd won it from Al McCoy, another "sidewheeler," who took it from George Chip. The vicissitudes of Wilson since winning the title are well known.

World's title bouts at the Polo grounds seemed "fined." A small crowd, not over 15,000, if that many, saw the affair last night. This past summer Kilbane lost his featherweight title in the same ring where the middleweights fought. Dundee won the title from Cragg, who took it from Kilbane, and Pancho Villa beat Jimmy Wilde for the flyweight crown there. Just one of these matches was a real financial success.

WAYNESVILLE AND YELLOW SPRINGS TO STRUGGLE SUNDAY

Waynesville and Yellow Springs are expected to furnish one of the warmest baseball engagements of the season Sunday when they held forth at the Athletic Park Yellow Springs. Manager Ben Cline will pitch Adams, his ace who defeated Xenia earlier in the season, against the up-country aggregation and Stockman, the Bellbrook receiver, will be behind bat. He disputes the assertion of the "Reserves" that his crack shortstop, "Buck" Crane, will play with the Xenia team, saying that the star fielder will again be in a Waynesville uniform.

Teleaven or Little will pitch for Yellow Springs and the game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

THOMSON'S INJURY HURTS WESLEYAN'S FOOTBALL CHANCES
Delaware, Ohio, August 31.—The baseball that fractured the skull of "Tommy" Thomson, Ohio Wesleyan football star, a week ago and ended his career on the gridiron, also struck a hard blow to the hopes of Ohio Wesleyan fans. The new catcher marks the passing of "Bud" Bayne, he of the elongated chin, who passed rapidly out of the picture last Sunday when he showed up at the yard looking and ast like the last rose of summer and Manager Bayliff firmly affixed the ban to his coat tails.

The new performer is Catton, Dayton receiver, who caught part of the season for the Maxwells is elected to take Bayne's job and receive the mysterious slants of either Out Fra or Bob Herman, who will draw the hurling assignment Sunday. Bayliff has not made any prewar announcements as to what grenadier will do trench duty.

The rest of the lineup will be intact. The Bayliffs may have to face Harold Little, the Yellow Springs ace again Sunday as it is understood he has fastened his name to a Harshman contract. "Left" Myers or "Peck" Koehley will also be eligible for mound duty for the Harshmanville club.

NO STATE LAW TO PROHIBIT MINORS DRIVING AUTOS

A statement of Curtis A. Moody, inspector of the state department of automobile registration under Secretary of State Thad H. Brown that boys or girls under 21 years of age are not permitted to drive motor vehicles was refuted in a letter received here by The Gazette, and the Republican by request from the Secretary of State.

Moody promised prosecution of youths under age driving automobiles while on a recent inspection trip during which he was particularly attentive to violators of license laws. He has charge of 11 counties in this section in enforcing automobile regulatory laws, especially those pertaining to licensing and registration.

The letter from Secretary of State Brown says: "In reply to yours of August 28th, beg to advise that we are unable to quote any Section of the Motor Vehicle Laws covering a minimum age for the driving of an automobile in Ohio. However, a number of municipalities have, by ordinance, established eighteen years as the minimum age for this purpose.

"Trusting this is the information you desire, I am
"Very truly yours,
"Thad H. Brown,
Secretary of State."
Publication of Moody's statement is said to have led to confusion among peace officers in enforcing laws bearing on the regulation of motor vehicles. As there is no city ordinance fixing an age limit on the statute books of the city of Xenia, and no state law governing that question according to the Secretary of State there can be no arrests here on those charges.

Rome, Sept. 1.—The Italian cabinet unanimously rejected the Greek reply to the Italian demands for reparations and apologies for the Janina murders. The reply was considered entirely unacceptable. After the cabinet adjourned Premier Mussolini gave out a statement declaring that important decisions had been arrived at and that "all adequate measures are in course of execution."

The organist played softly "I Love You Truly" during the double ring ceremony and Mendelssohn's march as the party left the church. Following the service a reception was held at the Hoffman home for two hundred guests. In receiving line were the bride's parents, the bridegroom's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. O. ## CITY OFFICIALS COMPLAINMENTED BY STATE AUDITING DEPARTMENT IN RECENT REPORT

Bouquets, verbal but none the less acceptable, were thankfully acknowledged Thursday by practically all city officials, when the report of the examiners of the State Auditing Department was received at City Hall.

With the exception of findings, part of which have been paid and part of which will be adjusted, totalling the comparatively small sum of $737.11, the report gave the city administration a clean bill of health with warm compliments. City Manager S. O. Hale, City Auditor T. H. Zell, City Treasurer T. D. Kyle, City Solicitor J. A. Finney, the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees and the Police and the Fire Departments all came in for words of praise in the report.

The report was submitted by J. D. Brees, examiner and his assistant H. W. Frillman, who spend several weeks here last spring going over the city's books. The findings returned are in the majority for small amounts listed as follows:

Against T. H. Zell in favor of City, cost of delivery bonds, $95.21;

Against Citizens National Bank, in favor of water works, excess interest on note $11.46;

Against Greene County, in favor of State of Ohio, 1-2 of liquor cases, $200.00.

Against Hornick Electric Company, in favor of city, duplicate payment, $1.20;

Against Sayre and Hemphill, in favor of City, duplicate payment, $2.40;

Against Walter Dimmitt, in favor of City, duplicate payment, $3.75;

Against Stiles Coal Co., in favor of City in error in invoice $8.24.

Against various water consumers, in favor of City, errors in charge, $132.55.

Against Water Works, in favor of various consumers, errors in charge, $87.94.

Against Sayre and Hemphill, in favor of Water Works, duplicate payment, $3.15.

Against Burgess and Niple, in favor of Water Works, overpayment, $189.18.

Against Citizens National Bank, in favor of Sinking Fund Board, error, $2.02. Total $737.11.

The findings against the Hornick Electric Company, Sayre and Hemphill and Walter Dimmitt, have been paid. The findings against the Water Department and against various water consumers has been adjusted. The finding against the Citizens National Bank in favor of the sinking fund trustees because of an error in calculating interest has been paid.

Greene County has promised payment of the finding against it in favor of the State of Ohio on the liquor cases. The finding against Burgess and Niple is said to result from records showing that firm's Columbus engine, had been paid that amount although no credit was ever given by the firm.

Errors for adjustment amount to only $108.57 including a finding of $105.75 against various property owners for undercharging special assessments and a finding of $2.81 for overcharging various poverty owners for special assessments.

The examiners made other recommendations some of which were made orally at the time of the examination and have already been placed in effect. The report declares that Xenia banks do not pay sufficient interest on public money in comparison with banks in other cities and encouraged an effort to get a higher rate.

The clause says: "The rate of interest paid on public moneys in this city is entirely too low compared with the interest rates prevailing in other cities. The taxpayers are losing much money by reason of the low interest rate. It is the duty of the city officials to demand a better rate of interest and they are to be criticized for awarding contracts to the banks at such a low rate of interest."

A recommendation made urges that the City Treasurer should assume the responsibility for paying out of public money and for the deposit of public money, a duty now taken care of by the City Auditor. In further reference to the Treasurer the report said: "The Treasurer's records are in good for many very neatly kept, but the fund ledger should show the exact condition of all funds at all times." A further criticism entailed the paying of claims against certain funds without the funds in the bank and paying salaries fixed by motion and not by ordinance, which is illegal according to the city charter.

Complimentary reports of City Auditor T. H. Zell, City Solicitor J. A. Finney, City Manager S. A. Hale members of the commission, and Police Judge E. D. Smith were contained in the report.

Concerning the City Commission, the report declared: "The purchase and construction of the water works plant and many extensive street and sewer improvements which were completed during the period of this examination placed upon the members of the city commission a great responsibility. Your examiners have only the most favorable comment to offer as to the manner in which the business of the city was administered by the commission. The records show that the members of the commission have performed their duties well."

That the Police Department should be equipped with a motor vehicle to assist officers, is the text of a recommendation filed with a report of this department. The report, after marking that complete records are kept by Chief of Police M. E. Graham, says: "The department is not equipped with a patrol wagon or automobile. The department is very much handicapped when hurry calls are made for the presence of police in the outlying parts of the city or in making arrests of persons for reckless driving. It would seem that an automobile is very essential in this department."

Concerning the Fire Department, the report said: "The Chief and his men are enthusiastic and capable in the performance of their duties. Much space was given to the Water Department, presenting the history and financial report of the operation of this department. Considerable space was also given a bond record and a report of the operation of the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees. The report said: "The City of Xenia is fortunate in having a board of sinking fund trustees consisting of men who are capable, conscientious and faithful in the performance of their duties. The taxpayers of the city should certainly appreciate the service rendered by these officials who give their time and service to this important duty without compensation. While the records have not been as complete as they should have been, the secretary, Mr. Zell, has shown a very pleasing disposition in complying with suggestions made by your examiners and many very important changes have been made and now records installed which will greatly facilitate an audit of the accounts."

At the close of the report, the examiners express an appreciation of the courtesy shown them by city officials during their stay here and of their readiness in supplying aid in furnishing them with all records necessary to complete the examination. The examination covered the period from September 23, 1920 to February 2, 1923, part of which time former City Manager Kenyon Riddle was head of the municipal government here.

ALASKA—THE GOAL OF A FATAL TRIP

Alaska was the object of the late President Harding's last journey on earth, the goal of a fatal trip. To acquaint himself with the facts first hand, in order that he might handle important problems touching that territory induced the late President to visit that far-off land. What of Alaska?

Fifty-six years ago Alaska, comprising 590,884 square miles of territory and perhaps 5,000 Russian trappers and Indian traders, was offered to the United States by Baron Stoeckle, Russian minister to the United States. He offered it, and Russia came to the United States at the instance of a European emperor who wished to strengthen our domination of this continent while supplying his own money chest.

Secretary of State Seward had a hostile and suspicious Congress to deal with. The only favorable influence in Congress was the recollection that Russia's emperor was friendly to the United States during the Civil war. Many members of both houses of Congress ridiculed the idea of paying more than seven million dollars for what they thought was a vast wilderness of rocks and ice, barren and unproductive.

The treaty by which the land was acquired was drawn up at night in the State department, and the document signed at 4 o'clock in the morning. Charles Sumner put it through the Senate; Thaddeus Stevens secured the appropriation in the House.

At first Alaska was leased by the government to a private company engaged in furs, fish and Arctic products. Within fifteen years after the purchase of the land Alaska yielded in fur, fisheries and gold about $15,000,000—twice the purchase price.

Alaska today has a population of approximately 60,000—one-half white and one-half Indian and Eskimo. The wealth of the territory is estimated at more than a billion dollars.

The federal government has introduced the reindeer for food and export. The 93,000 reindeer now are valued at $2,300,000. Fox furs bring $800,000 into the territory every year. Since the seal fisheries have been brought under control, the skins shipped annually bring $1,000,000 into the territory.

More than $70,000,000 is invested in Alaskan fisheries the products bringing in more than $420,000,000 annually. The salmon alone brought in $37,000,000 last year.

Since the discovery of gold in 1880, Alaska has produced $320,000,000 of the precious metal. Copper and other metals bring the total yield of metals up to $460,000,000. The value of coal deposits cannot be estimated. It has only just been touched.

When the late President Harding arrived in Alaska he found a government-built and operated railroad about 640 miles long and nearly completed, representing a government investment of about $56,000,000. To make this road a success, says the Secretary of the Interior, "there must be secured the development of coal and other mineral areas tributary to the railroad as well as utilization of the agricultural and grazing resources."

A main paved highway 27 miles long penetrates the interior; and more roads are in contemplation. Pulp and paper manufacturing enterprises are being launched and companies formed.

Overfishing during the world war has demoralized the fisheries of Alaska; conservation is needed. Abnormal runs mean half-supplied canneries a part of the year. More than 15,000 persons are employed in the Alaskan fisheries.

Alaska coal long locked up, is coming into large local use. The government is encouraging private enterprise, says the Secretary of the Interior.

Alaska grows all agricultural products except corn, cotton, beans, melons and fruit. Millions of acres are adapted to grazing, and Alaskan meat and dairy products soon will be shipped to the markets of the world.

Alaska takes about $563,500 each year in taxes and licenses; and spends about $680,300 each year. The Alaskan fund in the federal treasury makes up the difference.

There are fifteen territorial and three national banks doing business in the territory. Combined deposits are between five and six million dollars.

Wages in Alaska are from $4 to $6 a day; in the coal mines $8.60 a day. The wages for the year amount to about $5,300,000. Here are the high spots in the conclusions of the late President Harding:

"Alaska is destined for ultimate statehood.

"The wonder is that Alaska's gold production has fallen so little. Production will be restored when the world resumes a normal balance.

"The same may be said about Alaska's copper production.

"Alaska's troubles flow from the same general causes which make trouble elsewhere.

"The fisheries production is more than double the value of all metals and minerals in the territory.

"Alaska welcomes the government's restrictive policy in regard to forests.

"We must do what is necessary to develop the oil resources in the territory.

"We must encourage agriculture and home building."

The most significant conclusions of the late President were these words:

There has been much misunderstanding, no little misrepresentation and some disposition to hysteria at times, about Alaska. It has long since passed beyond the wild west mining camp stage, and is as sobered, settled normal a country as would be found anywhere. . . . We have been paid back many times every dollar spent on Alaska, and the dividends have only begun. . . . Mine is pride and faith in Alaska. Her people will work out the destiny of an enchanting empire and turn a wonderland of riches and incomparable fascination to added power and new glory to our republic."

This must have been the dream of Secretary Seward fifty-six years ago.

SHALL I KEEP WARREN'S PET?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Caleb Powers, former Kentucky secretary of state found guilty of conspiracy to assassinate Grover William Goebel, by a jury at Georgetown, Ky. Loyd and Long, cement contractors have purchased a machine to manufacture cement blocks for building houses. The Board of Public Service warns that any person found guilty of tapping a sewer will be fined $50 and costs.

The congregation of the First United Presbyterian Church and members of the Sabbath School will picnic at Hawkins Grove. Xenia markets—wheat 75c, corn 50, oats 30, hay $16, potatoes 60c. Spring chickens 10c lb. butter 15c. lb. eggs 15c doz. Many Xenians are attending the state fair this week. The thermometer this morning registered 62 degrees, the weather being in marked contrast to the heat that has been prevailing.

Being tactful with one's neighbors is another practice which pays. It costs nothing to smile and nod when Mrs. A. tell us that she adores orange draperies—even though we may personally prefer a quieter color. There is no need to differ with her openly (as so many human beings seem to delight in doing!) If, however, we are so tactless as to reply: "I wouldn't care for orange," we will have the uncomfortable knowledge that Mrs. A. leaves our doorstep with hurt feelings and with a conviction that we are neighbors who don't "get along well."

Indeed sometimes I find myself wondering if the lives of all human beings would not be happier if everybody used more tact in personal dealings.

"The trouble with an office job," said a business woman friend of mine, "is that you have to be so awfully tactful all the time. If you're not, you might as well resign your position. And keeping tactful is a great strain. I envy you housekeepers who can be as independent and outspoken as you please."

"But we housekeepers have to be tactful too!" I argued. "We have found that it pays to be tactful. The most successful housewives I know are women who are both tactful and discreet—who think twice before making a statement or taking a step."

I believe that the majority of housekeepers have discovered the value of tact. "Never close a door behind you. I once heard an old housekeeper say. And when I asked her what she meant, she replied: 'Never let an incident with another person end unpleasantly, if you can help it. For instance, a grocer once overcharged me outrageously. I protested, but he was firm. So I let the incident pass, without further quarreling, but of course I no longer dealt with him. Later on, months later I was forced, by unexpected circumstances to ask a favor of that grocer. And because I had left the door open behind me, I felt no awkwardness in asking it, and no embarrassment in accepting it. We never know when we may regret unpleasant relations with another being, so the best way is to avoid unpleasant relations."

This splendid housekeeper had led a long life, full of experience, and I think we younger housewives can profit by her advice.

A PLEA FOR GROWTH

Let me grow taller with the years,
Above the petty things of pride;
Let me look out and far and wide
Beyond the underbrush of spite.
The bickerings o'er wrong and right,
The little meanness of life,
The loss or gain of selfish strife,
And let me see when I grow tall
High purpose glowing through it all.

Let me grow bigger with the years,
Too big to do the petty thing
Which for advantage leaves a sting;
Too big to sneer at simple worth;
And honest toil and gentle mirth;

Too big, no matter where I am,
To try to hold my place with sham;
Too big, if I possess a soul,
To strike at him a cowardly blow.

Today's Talk

SOMETHING ELSE

Whenever we pass from some scene of beauty, some place of inspiration, or from the presence of some unique personage, we always have the feeling that there remains something we have failed to gain.

The rose does not open until it is about to wither. It spreads its petals in one last effort to show that which was mostly hidden during its life.

It is that "something else" by which we are lifted out of our meaner selves into our finer natures.

Read the exploits of some great man and then stand to watch him pass before the applause of the multitude and what do you see? A simple man who wishes he were home!

He into whose heart you have poured the treasure of what you are, is far finer than anything he has said to you—or done in the world. A nation's tears for its dead President are given as tribute to some thing far deeper and richer than any office or leadership.

There are heavenly instincts that come to us as a part of our heritage in the world—and one of these instincts is to know the "something else" in people and in individual character.

Look upon him in whom there is victory, and you already know that it isn't necessary to bear long upon special exploits.

We never tire of the heavens for there is always something else up there. And this is what makes all beauty fresh to us.

And when life's failures and disappointments have piled all too high, it is this instinct from heaven that flares anew in our consciousness—the knowledge that there is still something else for us here and now.

Gangsters of New York Prepare For War

Not since Red Davidson boarded a Third Avenue street car in New York City and "bumped off" Jack Zelig, gang leader for slaying his friend, Kid Twist, have New York's professional killers been giving more technical attention to their "rods" which they are oiling up for action. It all started when 16-year-old Yetchi Churgin turned her love from Izzy Kaplan of the Madison street gang, to Louis Schwartzman, of the Essex street gang. A few nights later Midget Lewis kissed Yetchi good-night—and good-bye, too, for an unseen gunman "croaked him" good and plenty. Now Essex street and Madison street knew it was "Kid Dropper," or one of his gang, who fired the shot. Don't think "Kid Dropper" got his name because of the men he "dropped," though he did "drop" many. Instead, he got it when he was young in gangstering, when the police called him "Kid Dropper" because of the way he felled kids to rob them. "Kid Dropper's" real name is—or was—Jack Kaplan, and he's a brother of Izzy Kaplan. A few days after Midget Louie "got his" there was a threat of a musicians' strike in New York theatres, and the police were tipped off a number of gunmen had gathered in an uptown office to fight possible strikebreakers. A raid in Broadway resulted in the arrest of "Kid Dropper" and his gang, but they were discharged in Essex Market Court for want of evidence. As "Kid Dropper" entered a taxi cab with his wife, and as the police reserves of three precincts stood around, undersized, anaemic Louis Cohen poked a gun through the back of the cab and bumped "Kid Dropper" off. One of his bullets went through the straw hat of Police Captain Willemse. "He killed my friend, Louis Schwartzman," said Louis Cohen in extenuation. So the "eggs" are oiling up their "rods," and the East Side is digging in.

CECIL FANNING TO APPEAR IN XENIA

Production of an American grand opera, written by two Ohioans is announced for February and March by the Cleveland Opera Company.

The opera, called "Alzola", is built around an Indian romance of the days of '49 with the painted desert of Arizona as the setting.

The author of the libretto is Cecil Fanning of Columbus, concert baritone. The composer is Francesco B. De Leone of Akron. When the opera is produced Mr. Fanning will create the baritone role. After the Cleveland production the work will be taken on tour and presented at a dozen other mid-Western cities.

In the fall Mr. Fanning starts on a transcontinental concert tour. His itinerary for October and November includes appearance in the following Ohio cities: Columbus, Dayton, Springfield, Marion, Ravenna, Warren, Bellefontaine, Fremont, Elyria, Xenia, Tiffin and Findlay.

PAGEANT WILL BE PRESENTED MONDAY

Final rehearsals for the pageant "The History of Xenia" to be presented under the auspices of the Community Recreation Association, have taken place this week, and the affair which will be given at Willow Tree Playground, Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock is rapidly rounding into shape according to those interested in the offering.

About 200 persons are expected to take part in the pageant, written by

Mrs. C. Mitchell Tallaferra, which depicts the history of Xenia in a panorama of tableaux, drills, dances and scenes in pantomime. Beginning with an Indian village the theme goes on to the location of Xenia as the county seat and shows her growth up to the present time.

There will be no charge for the pageant. Leaders of the playground movement point out that it is in the desire to bring all citizens together in a common cause that the pageant is being given.

XENIA FREE FROM CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

There is not a case of infectious or contagious disease in the city that has been reported to the health authorities according to City Health Commissioner, A. D. DeHaven.

Dr. DeHaven says that only one case that would come under that head has been reported to him within the last month. That was the case of typhoid which resulted in the death of little Fannie Calhoun. Earlier in the summer there were three mild cases of typhoid in the city. The source of infection could not be traced in any of the cases.

The general health in Xenia has been very good this summer, according to the health officer.

LABOR DAY

A NATIONAL HOLIDAY

THIS GREAT COMMONWEALTH will in the main lay aside her toils on Monday, September 3rd, and we will celebrate LABOR DAY

Great occasions, historical days, the birth or death of great men are commemorated in the history of a nation by the setting aside of that day in each year, that we may forever keep afresh in our memory and honor that event.

A great president in the past has proclaimed that in each year a day is to be marked, honoring the Laborer upon whom all industry in America depends.

It is right, that he should be honored. Is not our great nation built upon great industry? Is not great industry built upon and around the Laboring man?

WE TAKE just pleasure in saying that we will be closed on this holiday, MONDAY, in keeping with the honor due to our own laborers, men and women of Greene County.

I felt very lonely, very depressed after Tom left. His conversation with Paul was constantly in my mind; that my husband gambled. I was like Paul to be pleased that I once again looked well dressed like him also not to express gratitude.

PRINCESS ANASTASIA, AMERICAN, IS DEAD.

Princess Anastasia, the former Mrs. William B. Leeds, and wife of Prince Christopher, brother of the deposed King Constantine of Greece, died in London, last week.

When William Bateman Leeds died in Paris, in June, 1903, he left his wife, a fortune estimated at $14,000,000; some reports made the sum $40,000,000 but 'twas enough in either case. Her jewels included the famous pearly necklace in which she appeared in all photographs and were the wonder and admiration of London and Paris. It comprises thirty-seven pearls which Mr. Leeds bought for her in Paris, and which cost $340,000.

Nonnie May Stewart began the career which led her to a place near a throne in August, 1900, when she was married to the "Tin Plate King" at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart, of Cleveland. She had previously been married to George H. Worthington of Cleveland, but the couple was divorced in 1898.

While with Daniel C. Reid Mr. Leeds was engaged in building up the tin-plate industry, which he later passed on to the United States Steel Company at a profit of $10,000,000 to the two partners his wife took a prominent place in the society circles of Newport and New York. In 1906 Mr. Leeds bought Rough Point, the villa of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, one of the largest homes in Newport. In New York he purchased the big Leeds house at the corner of Fifth avenue and Eighty-ninth street.

After the death of Mr. Leeds and the settlement of his estate his widow went abroad and a year later was introduced into English society at Cowes, where she gave brilliant parties on board the steam yacht Marguerite, which she had chartered. Her entertainments in London and Paris increased her connections in European society.

It had been declared King Constantine was very anxious to bring off the match between his brother and the beautiful American. The Greek royal family was far from wealthy, and during the war it was said that its deposed head counted upon this marriage to obtain means to restore him to his throne.

Before Prince Christopher, who at the present time is thirty-five years old, succeeded in winning his American bride, he had to pass muster with the young son of the "Tin Plate King," young William B. Leeds, who occasioned a sensation not very long ago by marrying another sprig of royalty.

A DULL BUT HOPEFUL DAY IN IRELAND

The finest, most hopeful and most significant thing in the news of the week comes out of Dublin, whence so much of gloom and despair used to come. Ireland on Monday held her first general election under the Free State regime. All reports have it that this balloting of the Irish people was as quiet as a small-town school election.

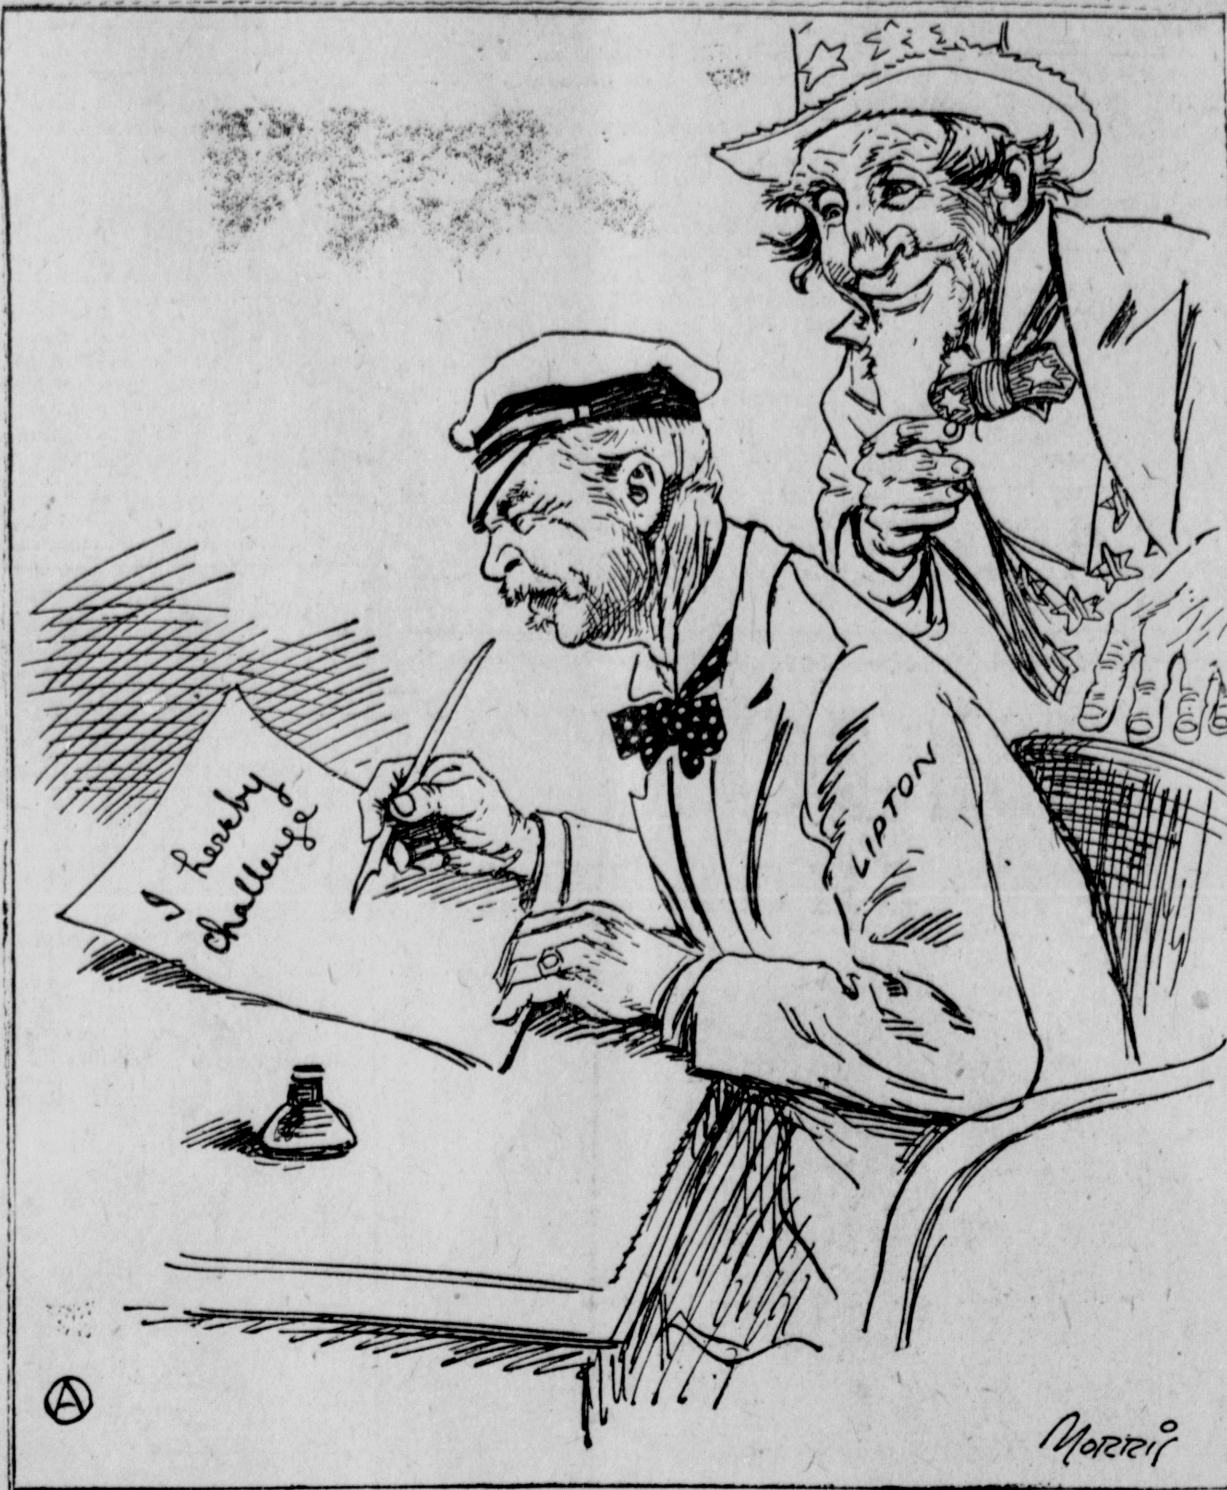

There were plenty of troops at hand, but they had nothing to do. The police yawned at their posts. It was a dull day in Ireland.

Six months ago a most cautious prophet might have predicted that Erin on its first general election day would be alive with flying fists and rocks and good sound blackthorns ringing right merrily. The Irish themselves would have foreseen the same or even worse.

After a vigorous campaign over the length and breadth of South Ireland, not a shot was fired in anger. There were fewer broken heads than have come out of many a county fair.

True friends of Ireland everywhere will rejoice in this orderly and quiet election that testifies to the genuine stability of the new regime and of the Irish people. It indicates that Ireland is getting over the hill. The results of this first general election, held by Irishmen under an all-Irish government in an Irish state, will be secondary to an even more important consideration. Whatever the final count, Free State policies are going under a Free State Government. The significant thing is that the Irish have met the hard test of genuine self-government and have not failed.

Beef Loaf: Have your butcher put two pounds of rump beef through his meat-chopper, with a very little fat mixed with it. Add to this chopped meat two well-beaten eggs, one-half teaspoon of sage, one-half cup of dry bread crumbs, one tablespoon of salt, a little pepper, and butter the size of a walnut, melted. When these ingredients are well mixed, turn them into a buttered pan, cover the pan, and bake for one hour—possibly a little less—in a hot oven. Five minutes before serving, remove the cover from the pan, and place two slices of uncooked bacon on top of the loaf, to give a delicious flavor. Serve hot or cold.

Corn Fritters—Sift together one pint of flour, one-half teaspoon of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of sugar and one-fourth teaspoon of salt. Stir into these dry ingredients three-quarters of a pint of sweet milk and one egg, mixed together. Then add one teaspoon of butter, melted, and corn grated from six large, cooked ears (or about one can of corn if you have not the ears). This is an excellent way to use left-over ears of corn. (The above menu calls for sweet corn, so I assume that there will be left-overs from it, for these fritters, on Wednesday.) Drop this batter by large spoonfuls onto a hot buttered griddle or frying pan, and turn when done on one side—like griddlecakes.

Battered Fish—Buy two pounds of butterfish (there are about three small butterfish to a pound) and place these in a frying pan with six slices of uncooked bacon; cover the pan and place it over a moderate flame. From time to time shake it well, to distribute the melted fat from the bacon. When the fish are browned on the under side, turn them over. Allow 20 minutes in all for cooking (they should be tender at the end of that time). When the bacon is well crisped, remove it from the pan, place it on the platter on which you intend to serve the fish, and add six slices of uncooked bacon to the frying pan. After you have once cooked butterfish in this way you will never again prepare it in any other way. Place the last six slices on top of the browned fish, to garnish. Serve very hot.

Frizzled Beef—Put one pound of thinly-sliced smoked or dried beef into a bowl with enough boiling water to cover; let stand 15 minutes then drain off the water. Now put in your frying pan two tablespoons of butter and when melted add the drained beef; when the pieces begin to frizzle, break over them four eggs and stir till the eggs are cooked. Serve hot.

THE HORIZON

The horizon where water and sky seem to meet
Fascinated the lad as he sat at my feet,
And he asked—and the question is certainly fair—
"Would you come to the sky if you ventured out there?"

Time was the horizon held me in that way,
And I wondered if I could slip out on the bay
And sail to that line in the distance, and be
For a moment in touch with the sky and the sea.

But I've learned the horizon moves back as you go,
That beyond every goal which

ing we'll know,
That beyond every goal which we covet and gain
There still shines in the distance a goal to attain.
So I said to the boy: "Could you go there today
You would find that the sky had moved farther away;
And 'tis this we call vision—a word in our speech
Which stands for a goal which we never quite reach."

"Life's broad horizon keeps moving away
Tomorrow stands there on the edge of today.
And always beyond what we've fought for and won,
Lies a goal in the distance still luring us on."

Today's Talk

NOT TO

A man was dying. He was visited by a minister. This understanding man talked and prayed for this life that was ebbing away.

The years of wasted opportunities came to light and the dying man thought out eternities in those minutes.

The minister urged repentance. "I do repent," said the dying man, "and I would look forward to a happy future existence, but don't you think it a very mean thing to ask God to forgive me after such a life as I have lived?"

"There is only one thing meaner," replied the minister, "and that is—not to!

Whose blood does not warm as he sees a man burning his bridges as he goes, intent only on what is before him, walking ahead with confidence and courage—unafraid?

We all put off many things which we should do immediately. And this always means double work at some time or other. It always means pain, disappointment and loss.

But not to turn about, not to take upon ourselves new determination, not to resolve anew, not to believe that the best is yet to come, not to say within our hearts that we cannot fail and that we will not fail, is to stamp our souls into the dust of oblivion.

Not to do your best is to contribute to your worst.

Not to live and perform while you may, is to spread your fingers and let precious gold drop to the ground to be forever lost to you—when all you need to do was to hold it tightly till you might give it out in exchange for the beauties that bloom like flowers from service well performed.

It is my opinion that God will forgive anything in a human being except his failure to try, to do something, to be somebody.

FIRPO IMPROVING

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 3.—Louis Angel Firpo worked out for the benefit of Tex Rickard. At the conclusion of his exhibition Tex declared: "Firpo is improving." Rickard stated that the challenger seemed in condition. Answering a general criticism to Firpo's style, he said: "Firpo will never change his methods of fighting. His present form has brought him victories and he has developed his own ideas of attack and defense. What may seem awkward to the ordinary observer is really a finished style of fighting adopted by the Argentinian."

NEW TREASURER AND DEPUTY TO ASSUME DUTIES

FRANK A. JACKSON
LEWIS REINWALD

Greene County exchanged treasurers Monday when Treasurer-elect Frank A. Jackson superseded Mrs.

Carrie Faulkner as custodian of the public moneys.

Mr. Jackson was the only new official to take office in the Court House Monday. B. F. Thomas, county recorder, and W. J. Davis, county surveyor, began new terms.

Mr. Davis has been enjoying a leave of absence all summer, which he spent with his mother near Portsmouth. He has supervised operations of the surveyor's office for fortnightly visits here, and the office was left in charge of W. P. McKay, chief deputy, the rest of the time.

Although he is beginning his first term in the Treasurer's office Monday, Mr. Jackson has had considerable experience as a public official. He was for eight years in the Sheriff's office, serving two terms as deputy and later was elected for two terms as Sheriff. Although he is a native of Cedarville he has continued to live in this city since retiring to private life.

Lewis Reinwald, of Yellow Springs is the new deputy Treasurer. He is a native of Yellow Springs, educated there and attended Antioch College. As a member of the 75th Company, Fifth Regiment of Marines he took part in the battles of Scissons, Metz Sector and St. Mihiel during the World War being wounded at St. Mihiel by a machine gun bullet in the hip. After five weeks in a hospital he rejoined his unit taking part in the Argonne offensive and later spent eight months with the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Mr. Reinwald has been employed at the Ohmer Fare Register Company, following completion of a business college course after leaving the service. As Monday is a holiday the new offices will actually assume office Tuesday.

Lost In The Woods

EXPERIENCED woodsmen say that when a man gets lost in the forest he usually travels round and round in a circle.

That's just the way some folks shop. They hit the buying trail, stray from it a bit, and before they are aware of the fact, they are lost—wandering in a maze of counters—gradually growing wearier and wearier—and finally get back home mentally and physically tuckered out without having accomplished much.

Up-to-date shoppers make up their minds what they are going to buy before they leave the house. They know exactly what they want, how much they want to pay, and just where they will find the right goods at the right prices. To them shopping is a pleasure.

These modern shoppers read the advertisements carefully and regularly. They find that the advertisements save them steps, bother, trouble and time.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Styles BY LENORE

You hear continually of the persistent efforts that are being made to oust the long-standing popularity of the straight-line dress and many business interests—the creators of styles, the manufacturers of materials, the designers of trimmings, and all the different allied selling interests—are hoping that women will eventually accept the snug wistline, notwithstanding their first recoil against it.

All of these people are conspiring to persuade women to give up the "slip-on" dress, and the easy little straightline dress which dressmakers have learned to copy well and cheaply, in favor of tight waists—which means corsets, and yardage—sheer quantity of material in voluminous or trailing skirts.

Well, of course, there is no telling how soon they may be successful. Already there is the entering wedge of circular skirts, and flounces, and knee-length coats which are beginning to win us. But happily, it is still possible to be smart in straight effects, even if they are most often modified in contour like the black silk crepe frock sketched above, with its panels of pleating. The embroidery is in Chinese blue and gold.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

CHAPTER XVII

It was evident that both Mr. Logan and Paul were well known at the restaurant. The servile head waiter, the quick service, the smiles and nods, all bespoke frequent visits on their part. An extravagant supper was ordered, then Paul and our host conversed in low tones while I tried to interest myself in the people around me, only occasionally catching fragments of their conversation.

"No, Dave," Paul said, and I listened intently. To what was he objecting? "Can't do it tonight. Got to take my wife home."

"Go to an hotel for the night, then join us," was the low-spoken reply. "We must catch the 12:30 train."

Paul, I remarked as casually as I could, then to Mr. Logan: "We have left our children with a neighbor and I promised not to stay late."

There was more talking between them, and I heard Paul agree to see him the following night.

That Logan was a gambler I had no doubt. He looked it. As I compared the coarse fellow with Paul, my heart sickened. Paul, tall, slender handsome, perfectly dressed and groomed, a companion of such a man and evidently upon intimate terms with him. It was Dave and Paul all through the dinner.

I knew Paul took a glass of wine, a cocktail, but seldom had I seen him drink as he did that night. Logan fairly gulped it down, glass after glass, yet showing but little effect of it, but Paul grew expansive, bragged, made me feel ashamed.

Logan sent us to the station in his car. I was grateful for this as Paul was not quite steady in his walk. My cheeks had burned with embarrassment as we left the restaurant. But I had sense enough not to attempt to talk to him, even on the train. He was not himself, and recriminations would do no good.

At breakfast the next morning I voiced my dislike for Logan. "How can you make a friend of such a man?" I asked.

He wouldn't, had he known the man's reputation. He's rich as mud and about as wholesome. Lots of men know him, but not many introduce him to their wives. He may not be as bad as he is painted, but a few years ago there was a terrible scandal about him—he left his wife for a chorus girl; the wife killed herself, and after a little he threw the girl over.

After Evelyn left, my thoughts were not pleasant ones. Yet I was glad she had told me. Perhaps Paul did not know the kind of a man Logan was.

Tomorrow—Dave Logan Dines With Paul

FORMER CLINTON COUNTIANS MEET

Several Greene County people were in attendance at the first annual reunion of former Clinton County residents of Montgomery and Greene Counties which was held at Forest Park in Dayton, Sunday. There was no fixed program for the day which was informally spent. An important feature of the day was the mammoth basket dinner which was served at noon.

An organization was formed with R. C. Hale of Dayton as president and R. H. Higgin as secretary. Several committees were appointed to serve for the coming year, and make plans for the next reunion which is expected to be a large affair. This meeting will be held the second Sunday of September 1924.

C. R. Hale, the president of the organization was formerly mayor of New Vienna.

Paige—Champion Hill-Climber of All

Wins First Place in "Free-For-All" Event at Albany Contest

AT the annual Albany, N. Y., hill-climbing contest, in the event open to all cars, Paige won first place. And mark this—Paige won against a field of America's quality cars—accepted as leading fine cars. The hill is 4/5 of a mile long—covered by Paige in 1 minute and 18 2/3 seconds—the fastest time made in any class. A standard car was used, loaned by an owner—against cars specially prepared for this test.

This added proof of Paige's remarkable performance was not needed. You know that Paige out-performs other cars. Owners are proving it every day in passing other cars on hills—pulling away first in traffic—driving from 2 miles an hour in high to as fast as they care to go—always silently and smoothly. How do they do it? More power for its weight—only 11.4 pounds per cubic inch of piston displacement! That means far more power than in most cars and far more ability to perform. Yet this great power is perfectly controlled under any guidance. That's because of the gentle Paige clutch; easy, quiet gear shifting; and ball-bearing steering spindles.

Paige rides as you have always wished your car would, for Paige rear springs are more than 5 feet long. Think of it! Comfort on any road at any speed. With snubbers front and rear, and Paige long wheelbase of 131 inches, can you imagine any other car nearly as comfortable? Just compare them. Paige bodies are soundly built. Body squeaks and rattles are prevented by double strips of patent leather keeping metal from touching metal or wood. Deeply cushioned seats and ample foot room invite rest.

Paige cars are completely equipped—no extras to buy. Think of all the accessories you must buy for other cars—see the list below—standard equipment on your Paige. Add the cost of these—$300 at least—to the price of other fine cars, and then compare them with Paige. This extra value in Paige cars is the result of overhead costs saved on Paige by quantity production on the Paige-built Jewett. Paige is a $3000 car selling at $2450.

Check all this by seeing and driving the Paige. There is no obligation to buy. Just telephone or call for a demonstration whenever you like. Convenient purchase terms if desired. (509-A)

REALLY EQUIPPED!

Paige prices include following equipment for which others charge extra on top of advertised prices—Two extra cord tires, tubes, rims and covers, mounted forward and locked on; spring bumpers front and rear; snubbers; stop light; folding luggage carrier; motorized; Waltham clock, gasoline gauge and cigar lighter on the dash; automatic windshield wiper; sun visor; rear-view mirror; transmission lock.

Any washing machine will wash—but after "washing"—WHAT?

WILL you have to lift each dripping piece out of the tub and put it through the wringer? Will you rinse each piece by hand? Will you again guide it through the button-wrecking wringer and then blue each piece by hand and then wring it again?

Choose a Laun-Dry-Ette and do away with all this labor.

It simplifies the washing, takes out all the work of wringing and the aftermath of broken buttons; makes rinsing and bluing easier by doing it a tubful at a time and make the clothes easier to iron by leaving out the hard-to-iron creases.

Let us give you a demonstration of how much easier washday can be when you use a Laun-Dry-Ette. Phone or call.
